HILLSBORO TO GET KATY ENGINEERS

WEBB REPLIES TO GRIEVANCE COMMITTEE, GIVING ORDERS BY WIRE.

CAN'T GET FACILITIES IN WACO

Homes for Families Are Needed and More Side Track Room for Switching.

Forty-eight men—engineers and firemen on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas passenger train—will change their residences and lay-over points from Waco to Hillsboro today or tomorrow.

The change has been made because of the refusal of the city to grant the road permission to put in additional tracks on Jackson street to handle the incoming and outgoing engines. With engines and crews changing here, it is necessary to have tracks to hold the engines before the arrival of the trains and to make the switches on.

For some time the company has been running engines from Denison through to San Antonio, a distance of 400 miles and more. By running the engines through Waco and changing the men here, the men are not given their mileage in their own territory and a system of crediting mileage which is made out of each man's own territory, is necessitated.

Engineers Took It Up.

The men took up the matter of making the change with officials of the company, and it was to have taken place last Monday. J. W. Corn, chairman of the general committee of adjustment for the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, of the Katy was in Waco yesterday and received a telegram from W. A. Webb, general manager of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas, advising that the change would take effect immediately. J. A. Coppers and J. O. Dunaway, old engineers on the road, were asked about the change last night and stated that it is impossible, almost impossible, to make the change. They said that the men who would move their families here, it is said, they are all highly paid men and would be valuable citizens to Waco. The men spoken to last night said that they would not object to buying homes here and living, if a permanent settlement were made for changing here.

Belmond Is Inaccessible.

The passenger engine cannot change at Belmond on account of inaccessibility, and if the engines were changed in Waco, would have to live on the west side of the river.

Last December the terminal point was changed from Hillsboro to Belmond and therefrom it brought a number of additional trains to Waco. At the time a complaint was made because of the housing accommodations at Waco, and since that time it seems that the railroad men have been satisfied. The new Belmond terminal is located about two miles from the city, beyond the East Waco city limits, and there is no car service between Waco and Belmond, save that provided by the railroad company and the immense volume of traffic over the interlockers make it impossible to operate trains for the accommodation of the employees, save twice a day.

The men could get homes on the west side of the river, but this would require the crews to change at the passenger depot. If the change is made here, the Katy must have more tracks. The application for a long siding on Jackson, running from Ninth to Sixteenth, was made to the commission and not being acted on, it was withdrawn.

Application for Siding.

When the Katy made application to the city commission for additional side track, the request was based on the claim that it was desired to establish a reeving depot at the Geyer ice plant, but no public statement was made at the commission meeting that the long side track was needed for the engines in order to change crews here. The request came first from the Geyer ice company, the statement being that it would bring a big ice business here that now goes to Fort Worth and Hillsboro. Protests were made against granting the side track by the Lacy coal company, as it was stated that the proposed siding would cut off the local company from all its loading and unloading facilities, and E. B. Baker, who owns frontage on Jackson, and other owners adjacent thereto objected as it was stated that it would raise the street grade above the grade of the street property line and would seriously damage their property. The matter was pending in the commission with no action having been taken either way.

Consul Came to Home.

Philadelphia, April 22.—Consul Canada, who refused to permit the arrest of Dr. Francisco Gomez by the Mexican military authorities at Vera Cruz, arrived here today on the American-Hawaiian liner Minnesota. He was accompanied by his wife and declined to discuss the Gomez case, which he will make a report to the authorities at Washington. He contemplates visiting his home in Indiana before returning to Mexico.

PUBLIC HEARINGS ON TARIFF BILL TABOED BY FINANCE COMMITTEE TO SHORTEN TIME

Leader Underwood Expects to Rush Measure Through By Limiting the Debate and Hours of Session, Which Opens in the House Today.

Washington, April 22.—By a strict party vote the senate finance committee today decided finally that no public hearings would be given upon the tariff bill when it reaches the senate. Interested persons will be given a full opportunity to file briefs, or statements with the committee bearing on any of the tariff schedules.

The decision is expected to materially shorten the time that will be consumed in getting the tariff bill before the senate for consideration. The tariff debate opens in the house at 11 o'clock tomorrow, and in the hope that general debate can be limited to five days, the senate committee will attempt to hold the house to twelve hours of continuous work per day. Another week of consideration under the rule permitting amendments will be sent to the senate soon after May 5, it is believed.

The tariff bill came back to the house today from the ways and means committee with a vigorous supporting report from the Democrats on the committee and an opposing report from the Republicans.

The general debate that begins tomorrow will be followed by concerted efforts on the part of the Republicans in the house to amend the bill in all its important schedules.

While the senate finance committee has decided that further hearings are unnecessary, the Democratic members of the committee will confer tomorrow with Democratic senators from Pacific coast and Rocky Mountain states who are opposed to the free sugar and free wool provisions of the new bill. A number of western senators, including Myers of Montana, and Ashurst of Arizona, will not participate in the conference, as they have failed to support the free wool and free sugar program, if it is approved by the house.

Details of the Report.

The report submitted by Chairman Underwood, after outlining the operation of the proposed income tax, said: "The revenue from the income tax readily responds to changes of rates and the latter can be raised or lowered within a few days time without business disturbances such as general tariff changes occasion. It is believed that a budget or other effective system by which Congress would be able to closely calculate and determine the advance for the coming year will soon be devised, in which event it should become easy to maintain a close balance between expenditures and revenues such as is practiced in most other civilized countries. With other sources of revenues adjusted to an honest and fixed basis and the income tax a permanent part of our revenue system and at all times affording a substantial amount of revenue, Congress could, and if necessary should annually raise or lower the income tax rates in such a way as would prevent a deficit or surplus in the treasury. This combined tax flexibility would afford justice in taxation, flexibility and stability of revenue and rigid economy in expenditures."

The Democrats, outlining their policy in the preparation of the bill pronounced an absolute disregard for the protection of production theory as regulatory of tariff rates and declared that in the pending bill they had attempted:

To eliminate protection of profits and to cut off duties which enabled industrial managers to exact a bonus for which no equivalent is given.

To introduce in every line of industry a comparative tariff based on providing for a substantial amount of importation to the end that no concern shall be able to feel that it had a monopoly of the home market gained other than through the fact that it is able to furnish better goods at lower prices than others.

"Which is the wiser course for our government to take," the report asked. "The one that demands the protection of the one, the continued policy of both home and foreign growth, which follows where competition ceases—or, on the other hand, the gradual and consistent reduction of our tariff laws to a basis where the American manufacturer must meet honest competition; where he must develop his business along the best and most economical lines; where, when he fights at home to control his market, he is forging the way in the development of his business to extend his trade in the markets of the world. In our judgment the future growth of our great industries lies beyond the seas."

A detailed table was presented showing by schedules, the total revenue under the Payne-Aldrich law for 1912 and the estimated revenue under the new bill for the same month period. The table showed that in 1912 $759,299,915 worth of imports paid $304,597,035 in duties, at an equivalent average ad valorem rate of 40.12 per cent. It is estimated that under the new bill $1,000,000,000 worth of imports would pay $266,701,000 in duties at an average ad valorem rate of 26.60 per cent. Thus the new bill would raise $337,898,000 less than the present law.

"The savings thus made in revenue collections is only suggestive of the immensely great saving secured to"

BELGIANS GAIN RIGHT TO VOTE

ON ADVICE OF THE KING, GOVERNMENT ACCEPTS COMMITTEE OF LIBERALS.

SATISFACTORY TO SOCIALISTS

Little Doubt Is Expressed But That Struggle Will Be Ended on Monday.

Brussels, April 22.—Owing in great part to the advice of the king, the government today accepted the compromise proposed by the liberal leader, M. Masson, and the great strike for universal suffrage, which on account of the remarkable discipline maintained, the solidarity of those who joined in the movement and skillful organization, is unique in history, will be called off Thursday.

The decision to accept the compromise was reached yesterday by the cabinet, and the premier announced in the chamber of deputies today that the government had made M. Masson's motion its own.

When the chamber of deputies met this afternoon the conciliatory motion of M. Masson, liberal leader, was taken up. Deputy Liebaert, a clerical, proposed an additional clause reading: "The chamber disapproves and condemns the general strike."

JUDGE C. K. BELL DEAD

FORMER ATTORNEY GENERAL OF TEXAS PASSES AT HIS HOME IN FORT WORTH.

Has Been Conspicuous in Texas Politics—Once Judge, Later Member of Congress.

Fort Worth, April 22.—Judge C. K. Bell, attorney general of Texas during the Lanham administration, died at 12:40 p. m. today at his residence, 2424 College avenue.

His death was not unexpected. For several months he has been confined to his room with a severe attack of kidney trouble and his death has been but a question of time for more than a month. Two weeks ago he rallied slightly but again became worse.

It became apparent early Tuesday he could not live through the day and Mayor Allam, his former law partner, kept in connection with the residence by telephone all morning while attending the session of the city commission.

Judge Bell was one of the most prominent figures in Texas politics for many years. He served two terms in congress and two terms as attorney general and was a candidate for governor in 1906 against Tom Campbell and Oscar Colquitt.

One of the striking features of his career was the great confidence felt in him. It is his chief remarkable indication of the recognition of his conscientiousness and integrity as well as his great personal popularity that despite the animosity that in some seasons marked the recent statewide prohibition campaign, Judge Bell was at the same time chairman of the Anti-Statewide Prohibition Association and of the Fort Worth Y. M. C. A.

He is survived by his widow, a daughter of the late John Peter Smith, and by their son, a boy of three.

Judge Bell was a native of Tennessee and would have been sixty years old next month. He came to Texas when nineteen years of age, settling in Hamilton county. His rise as an attorney was rapid and he was chosen as county attorney and then as district judge.

From the bench he went to congress and then into the attorney general's office. He removed to Fort Worth and resumed law practice upon completion of his term as attorney general.

He was appointed attorney general in March, 1901, to succeed Thomas S. Smith, deceased. In November, 1902, he was elected to the office.

HILLSBORO HAS COTTON FIRE

Fire of Unknown Origin Destroys $1680 Worth of Staple at Compress.

Hillsboro, Texas, April 22.—Fire, supposed to have originated from a spark settling upon loose cotton from the stack of a passing locomotive, damaged seventy bales of cotton on the platform of the Exporters' and Importers' company's plant here early this morning. The loss is estimated at $1,680, covered by insurance. Forty per cent of the damaged bales was a loss. The cotton was owned by C. L. Penn, Waxahachie; Feller and company, Dallas; T. O. Johnson and company, Paris.

DANGER PERIOD PASSED BY POPE

HIS HOLINESS SITS UP FOR TWO HOURS IN HIS ROOM TUESDAY.

PILGRIMS PRESENT A STATUE

Americans Led By a New Yorker Arrive in Naples En Route to Rome.

Rome, April 22.—The pope sat up for two hours today, after which Dr. Amici, by the instructions of Professor Marchisava, forced him to return to bed, while the pontiff did reluctantly. He remained in the sick room for a considerable time to make sure that his instructions were carried out.

The pope continues to express confidence for the resumption of his ordinary life, but the physicians insist upon absolute rest at least for another fortnight. They declare that another relapse would be inexcusable, both for the patient and the doctors.

Cardinal Merry del Val, the papal secretary of state, today received a pilgrimage from the diocese of Cambrai, France, conducted by Bishop Delamare, who brought with him a bronze group representing the virgin curing a patient who had been carried before her. The bishop said the pilgrims desired to present it to the pope and asked that it be taken to his bedroom as a good augury that the virgin would smile upon the sick pontiff and relieve him of his infirmities.

The papal secretary, in expressing his thanks, said:

"The pilgrims are the children of France, which, notwithstanding its many sins, is to be considered always the eldest daughter of the church. The pilgrims have come to Rome to commemorate the liberty granted by Constantine to the church, and they must pray that the same liberty be granted again to the church in France."

An American pilgrimage led by Jno. J. McGraw of New York, comprising about one hundred persons, of whom a score of ecclesiastics, arrived here this evening from Naples. They expressed great regret to hear that the pope's condition was such that he would not be possible for him to receive them in audience, but they have not given up hope that they will at least see the pontiff.

For Breach of Contract.

Scranton, Pa., April 22.—The United States circuit court of appeals here in the case of John W. Peale of New York against the Marian Coal company, owned by W. P. Boland of Scranton, for breach of contract, has handed down an opinion sustaining the judgment of $34,533 awarded Peale by Referee J. Fred Schaffer and affirmed by Judge Witmer. The Marian company is directed to pay the costs.

SCHOOL STRIKE CAUSES A DEATH

CHILD KILLED BY STREET CAR IN PITTSBURG DURING DEMONSTRATION.

Object of the Wrath of Children Is Burned in Effigy at Many Points.

Pittsburg, April 22.—The strike of school children against S. L. Heeter, as superintendent of the city's public school system, spread rapidly today and resulted in one death. A little girl was run down by a street car and killed during one of the demonstrations.

Beginning yesterday, when hundreds of children remained away from school as a protest against Heeter, who last Friday was acquitted by a jury of the charges preferred by a female domestic employed at his home, the strike gained great proportions today. In all parts of the city thousands of school children paraded the streets, tying up traffic at a number of busy out to maintain order.

Late in the afternoon, when the demonstrations of the children had ceased, the Pittsburg board of education held a meeting, at which a committee to investigate the various charges of immorality against Superintendent Heeter.

The committee follows: W. H. Stevenson, president of the chamber of commerce; Valentine Barry, president of the City Central Trades Council; Bishop Courtland Whitehead, of the Pittsburg Episcopal diocese; A. Leo Weil, president of the Voters' league of Pittsburg; Bishop J. Regis Canavin, of the Pittsburg Roman Catholic diocese; the Rev. George W. Shaffner, pastor of the second Presbyterian church and president of the ministerial union; the Rev. Dr. J. L. Levy, rabbi Rodeph Shalom synagogue.

The unique strike of the children caused the police considerable inconvenience. A score of youthful misdoers were detained at the various police stations until their parents could be notified. One little girl was run over and killed by a street car during the excitement occasioned by one of the parades.

Charles McCool, aged 25, was arrested in front of a school building and charged with disorderly conduct. He is alleged to have been attempting to prevent children from entering the school. William Slater, aged 57, was taken into custody, charged with inciting a riot. Slater and several women attacked two officers who were breaking up banners carried by children, inscribed "Kick Heeter out."

Banners of all descriptions, some of them inflammatory, are in evidence all over the city.

At a number of points during the day Heeter was hanged and burned in effigy.

TOOL OF LIQUOR IS LANE'S CHARGE

ASSERTS THAT THE GOVERNOR'S VETO OF 9:30 BILL WAS TO HELP THE RENEWALS.

WILL SMOKE OUT COLQUITT

Pretended Friendship for the Bill Is Confidence Game By the Executive, Says Comptroller.

Austin, April 22.—Comptroller W. P. Lane issued a lengthy statement today in which he charges the governor with bad faith. He writes the history of the veto of the 9:30 closing law, and its veto, Lane says:

"I dare say a more inconsistent man has never filled a public office in the state of Texas than Governor O. B. Colquitt. He is inconsistent personified. In writing to me requesting an expression as to my attitude upon a measure before it had become a law and reached me for action, he was making a request exactly similar to one I had made of him a short while before, and which he had declined to grant."

"On February 26, 1913, I addressed a communication to Governor Colquitt advising him that I was very much hampered in the discharge of the duties of the comptroller's department by reason of the insufficiency of the present office force at my disposal, and advising him that I contemplated calling on the legislature, later in session, to provide additional clerical force for the work of the comptroller's office, but in view of his attitude toward previous appropriations for this purpose I desired to know in advance whether or not these items of appropriation for the employment of additional clerical force in my department would meet with his approval, and I enumerated the number of employees and the salary for which I contemplated asking the legislature to provide."

"He did not reply to this communication and on March 12 I addressed to him a second communication, relative to this matter and enclosed him a copy of my first letter and on March 17, 1913, he acknowledged receipt of my two former communications and declined to grant my request in the following language: 'I did not reply to your letter of February 26, because I have not been accustomed to giving any assurance about the approval of appropriations prior to the receipt of a law and appropriations. I have not given any assurance to the head of any other department and do not feel that I should do so in your case. When the bill reaches me I shall try to discharge my duty.'"

"In keeping with the precedent laid down by Governor Colquitt in the language above quoted, I could have very consistently replied to his letter requesting me to define my attitude on the 9:30 closing law, by answering him in his own words that 'when the bill reaches me I shall try to discharge my duty.'"

No Truth in Statement.

The governor, in his veto message, charges me with being 'disinclined to co-operate with the governor and the attorney general and other officials of the state government in effecting a harmonious interpretation of the law and to co-operate with them in its enforcement.' This statement has neither foundation in fact or in truth. I share the honor of the part of Governor Colquitt to foment strife between myself and the attorney general, who have been heretofore and are now on the best of terms, personally, socially, politically and financially. So far as I am concerned his charge in this respect will prove a signal failure. The attorney general is my personal and political friend and is in thorough accord with me in the enforcement of liquor laws of this state."

"The governor states in his letter to me, as well as in his veto message, that he was earnestly desirous that this act become a law and declares that he had finally made up his mind to veto the same because of the attitude of the comptroller with reference thereto. Both of these declarations I emphatically deny, and I propose in this statement to prove they are not correct and acquaint the people of Texas with the motives that actuated the governor in vetoing this bill."

Is Confidence Game.

"The veto of this bill is one of the cleverest efforts the governor has made during his entire administration to pull off a 'confidence game' on the people of Texas. It is a 'confidence game' in that he endeavors to convince the people of Texas, in his letter to me as well as in his veto message, that he favors this bill, whereas the facts show that it was an effort on his part, and in fact he did by vetoing this measure, confer upon the liquor dealers of Texas one of the greatest services that he has been able to render them since he has been in the office of governor."

"There is a 'nigger in the wood pile' in connection with this transaction, and I propose to smoke him out. As indicated above, there were some very important changes made in this amendment to the civil statute, changing the substance of a liquor dealer's application to the comptroller for a permit."

"As the law now stands, the comptroller could not forfeit a liquor dealer's license except for certain alleged violations of the law, there being only nine separate offenses for which he could take such action. This amended civil bill provided that the comptroller could forfeit a liquor dealer's license for any violation of the liquor law."

All Renewals Will Be Made.

"The governor assures the people of Texas he will submit this question to the special session of the Thirty-third legislature, which convenes in the Capitol on July 21, 1913. This will be ten days after the renewal licenses of from $5 per cent to 20 per cent of the liquor dealers of this state whose applications will have been made and accepted under the old law and will be valid for twelve months, thus relieving them from the forfeiture of their license by the comptroller except in the nine violations of the law now enumerated in the statutes. Thus the people of Texas can readily see that the comptroller will have no jurisdiction over these law-defying dive saloon keepers except that now conferred upon him by the law, until July 1, 1913, after which latter date I will have only six months to serve as comptroller.

"What further evidence do the people of Texas need to convince them of the truthfulness of the charges I have so frequently made that Governor O. B. Colquitt is a subservient tool of the liquor traffic, and he has vetoed this bill for the purpose of conferring upon them the greatest benefit he has been able to bestow since they elected him governor of this state."

PUBLIC HEARINGS ON TARIFF

the public by the probable change in prices by the removal of the excessive rates of the present law.

"It is a striking fact," the report concluded, "that during the years subsequent to the renewal of the policy of the high tariff in 1897 there has been a radical transformation of American economic life in many directions and that in most cases a connection between the rates of protection and the development of unfair or objectionable conditions has been fully established."

"The increased cost of living was mentioned as the most striking economic change needing adjustment through the tariff and a table was submitted showing a percentage of increase in wholesale prices of many articles in the period from 1897 to 1910. The table gave the percentage of increase from 1897 to 1910 in farm products as 93.2 per cent; food, 46.7 per cent; clothing, 35.8; metals and implements, 48.2; drugs and chemicals, 23.9; house furnishings goods 24.2; miscellaneous, 44.5; an average increase in such commodities of 46.7 per cent."

In close conjunction with the high cost of living the report suggested the development of trusts and industrial combinations during the same period, and gave a list of 27 such combinations organized since 1897, controlling thousands of plants and with an aggregate capital of many billions. It also referred to the rapid exhaustion of international resources, and said that the protective system has been greatly influential in maintaining a too rapid rate of depletion of natural resources in order to satisfy the constantly increasing demands of a rising population is an unmistakable fact.

Discussing the democratic theory of tariff revision the report declared for the establishment of duties designed primarily to reduce revenue without thought of protection and for the attainment of this end by legislation that would not injure or destroy legitimate industry. In this connection the report said:

"To protect profits of necessity means to protect inefficiency. It does not stimulate industry because a manufacturer standing behind a tariff wall that is protecting his profits, is not driven to develop his business along the lines of greatest efficiency and greatest economy. This is clearly illustrated in a comparison of the wool and the iron and steel industries. Wool has had a specific duty that when worked out on an ad valorem basis amounts to a tax of nearly 30 per cent of the average value of all woolen goods imported into the United States and the duties imposed have remained practically unchanged for forty years. During that time the wool industry has made comparatively little progress in cheapening the cost of its products and improving its business methods.

"On the other hand in the iron and steel industry the tariff rate has been cut every time a tariff bill has been written. Yet the iron and steel industry has not languished."

In a series of tables the report showed that the articles dutiable under the Payne law and placed on the free list by the Underwood bill in the last year yielded a revenue of $24,698,296 on imports of $102,402,579. The committee took from the present free list and levied duties against articles which it is estimated will yield $4,447,955 revenue on $42,595,510 during a twelve month period under the Underwood bill.

A computation by treasury experts represented in the report shows that the government revenue from all sources in 1912 was $935,522,481, and the government expenditures $991,297,979, leaving a surplus of $37,224,502. The estimated revenue from all sources for the first year under the Underwood bill is $25,000,000, and the estimated expenditures $24,750,000. With a treasury surplus of $1,335,000 this would leave a deficit to be raised by the income tax amounting to $8,750,000. The earning power of the income tax the first year of its operation is fixed by the report at $17,570,000.

In its estimate of the amount to be raised by the income tax the committee presents a table showing that 126,000 incomes between $4,000 and $5,000 will pay $630,000 tax; 178,000 incomes between $5,000 and $10,000 will pay $1,340,000; 52,000 incomes between $10,000 and $15,000 will pay $4,240,000; 24,500 incomes between $15,000 and $20,000 will pay $3,150,000; 10,500 incomes between $20,000 and $25,000 will pay $2,500,000; 21,000 incomes between $25,000 and $50,000 will pay $2,850,000; 5,000 incomes between $50,000 and $100,000 will pay $1,150,000; 550 incomes between $100,000 and $500,000 will pay $6,745,000; 350 incomes between $500,000 and $1,000,000 will pay $9,131,000; and 100 incomes of over $1,000,000 will pay $5,250,000. A total of 425,000 incomes to be taxed $70,125,000. The report says that the income tax is included in "response to the general demand for justice in taxation and the long-standing need of an elastic and productive system of revenue."

"In connection with our legislative work of readjusting the old and adopting a new finance policy," the report continues, "congress should eliminate the inequalities and abuses of the existing rates, reduce the rates to a sound revenue basis and levy an income tax to equalize the tariff burdens and to give elasticity and productiveness to our revenue system."

The report characterizes the present tariff system as "fluctuating, unstable and often is productive, thus exposing the government to deficiencies or excesses with all their attendant embarrassments."

The report declared the maximum and minimum clause of the Payne law giving the president the power to impose additional taxes on goods of countries declining to include the United States as a "most favored nation" in commercial adjustments has been a failure. The new bill strikes that provision from the law and gives the president the power to negotiate trade agreements containing "mutual concessions" with foreign countries to be approved by congress.

DIRECTORS ARE ELECTED.

Associated Press Holds Its Fourteenth Annual Meeting in New York.

New York, April 22.—At the fourteenth annual meeting of the members of the Associated Press, held here today, the following directors were re-elected for a term of three years: Charles Hopkins Clark, Hartford, Conn., Courant.

Charles W. Knapp, St. Louis Republic.

Clark Howell, Atlanta Constitution. V. S. McClatchy, Sacramento Bee. Charles A. Rook, Pittsburgh Dispatch. Samuel F. Bowles, of the Springfield (Mass.) Republican, was elected for two years to fill the unexpired term of Frederick Roy Martin, resigned.

The following advisory boards of the southern district were elected:

Advisory Board—James R. Gray, Atlanta Journal; Frank Glass, Montgomery Advertiser; Bruce Haldeman, Louisville Courier-Journal; Robert Ewing, New Orleans States; H. C. Alder, Chattanooga Times.

Nominating Committee—W. J. Crawford, Memphis Commercial-Appeal; R. M. Johnston, Houston Post.

Auditing Committee—Jas. M. Thomson, New Orleans Item.

NO CURRENCY REFORM.

Washington, April 22.—Currency reform legislation was taken up for the first time today by the full senate committee on banking and currency. As the result of a short session in which plans for a financial bill were not discussed in detail, it is believed that unless President Wilson insists, there will be no final action upon currency legislation at the present session of congress.

Arrangements will be made for a short series of hearings before the senate committee, to begin within a few weeks. Details of the plan of reform that is to be presented with the endorsement of President Wilson are now being worked out; but opinions expressed at the committee meeting today indicated that Democratic leaders probably will not attempt to press financial legislation to its final stages until after the December session.

2 BODIES FOUND WOMAN IS HELD

ST. LOUIS POLICE UNEARTH REMAINS OF TWO WOMEN IN BASEMENT OF BUILDING.

WERE DEAD THREE MONTHS

Story Told By Suspect Arrested Is Full of Pathos, Tragedy and Fear.

St. Louis, April 22.—The bodies of Mrs. Ernestine Komitichau and her daughter Selma were unearthed this afternoon in the basement of a building at 2412 South Broadway. Marie Komitichau, another daughter, confined in the city hospital with a broken leg, will be held pending an investigation. The three women occupied the house three months ago. Three weeks ago Marie said her sister had died and the mother had taken her body to Illinois for burial.

At the hearing Marie Komitichau stated that her mother and sister had died of natural causes nine months apart and that she buried them in the basement at their request because they feared ghosts.

"Before my mother died she made sister and me promise that we would not take her body out of the house so the undertakers could get her," said Miss Komitichau. "We had no doctor for her—there has not been a doctor in our house for ten years, and a doctor could not have done mother any good."

"We put her body in a showcase, which we took from the notion store, and poured plaster of paris around the glass and cracks to keep the air out. We kept the showcase containing the body upstairs in a rear room. No one knew, for none of the neighbors had paid any attention to mother, and they did not inquire about her."

"When sister died I knew people would ask about her and that if the neighbors found out I was keeping her body, they would ask about mother too. So I told the neighbors that my mother had died and that Selma had taken her to Illinois for burial."

"Then I took both bodies into the basement. I laid them on the basement floor and poured plaster of paris and cement over them."

Marie said that she needed help in removing the body of her mother from the showcase and called a German woman who was passing the store and whom she never saw before.

"She was clumsy," continued Marie, "and was no help. I told her she need not mind about staying. I never saw her again and I don't know whether she told anyone."

Marie said that one man, Adam Almeroth, living here, knew of the deaths.

"He is a very religious man," said Marie. "He has called on us now and then for a long while. He said, 'I saw over mother's body and over sister's body. I don't think he knew the bodies were buried in the basement, for I don't remember ever telling him.'"

Marie asked the police not to show the bodies of her mother and sister to be removed from the house.

Mrs. Ernestine Komitichau was 79 years old and Selma 50 years old. Marie is 45.

The bodies were so disintegrated that identification was difficult. From the neck of each was suspended a crucifix. At the feet of each was a porcelain urn of the kind sometimes used to hold holy oil. The graves were decorated with two small cedar trees, a wire cross and a mound of soil. Under the corpses was a layer of quicklime.

ANCIENT CUSTOM IS REVIVED

Feast of the Seder Celebrated Like in the Ancient Days Here.

Like in the days when the Children of Israel dwelt in their own land and when at the first night of the Passover known as seder night was celebrated in the Temple at Jerusalem, congregation Rodef Shalom of this city observed the feast in the temple last night with Rabbi Warsaw officiating. Sixty or more children, members of the Sunday school, gathered in the vestry, where tables covered with snow white linen and the candelabra with seven lights burning in the center, the emblem of Israel shedding its light over the world, the old story of Israel's hurried departure from slavery in Egypt was told in dialogue. At the close of the seder meal, the youngest of the festival board asks the patriarch, "Why do we celebrate the Passover?" The patriarch then explains in detail why the feast is observed and has been observed throughout the past generations. Following that interrogation, the little chap then asks an explanation of the various symbols displayed on the table, all of which is duly explained. Wine plays an important part in the feast as an emblem.

Always at the seder table there is one vacant place set for a guest, and the front door is left open. This is done so that should a pilgrim Jew be passing by and should hear the services, he may walk in as a welcome guest and given a passover feast. Rabbi Warsaw acted as the patriarch. At Orthodox Synagogue.

Rev. L. Jacobs, rabbi of Congregation B'nai Joseph of Chicago, and editor of the Jewish Record in that city, spoke last night at the Agudath Jacob synagogue, corner of Seventh and Columbus streets, on "The World Not Yet Ready for Civilization." He will speak tonight on "The War in the Balkans and Its Significance to the Jew."

Dr. Jacob has finished a series of lectures at Dallas where he spoke to large audiences. He is a highly educated man, being a graduate of Vienna university and of the University of Hanover in Germany. He has traveled extensively in Europe and is a strong speaker. His lectures here have been heard by large audiences. He will go to San Antonio from Waco.

BAPTISTS ARE BUSY

SCORE OF PEOPLE UNITED WITH THE LOCAL CHURCHES LAST NIGHT.

Campaign Is Proving Successful—Good Attendance at the Shop Meetings Held at Noon.

Program for today—
9 A. M.—Services at Carroll chapel.
9:30 A. M.—Personal workers class.
10 A. M.—Inspirational service at First Church.
12 Noon—Shop meetings.
7 P. M.—Prayer everywhere.
8 P. M.—Evangelistic services in all the churches.

All of the services of the Baptist revival yesterday were encouraging. The congregations were generally larger and the results were more widespread. The campaign is gripping the city as it has not before. There is a growing conviction that the whole force of Baptists at least, must get into line for the most thorough campaign ever witnessed in Waco.

Dr. Hale made a telling address in Carroll chapel yesterday at 9 o'clock. The student body greatly enjoyed it. Dr. Bruner speaks at the chapel this morning and Prof. Reynolds sings.

The personal workers class, led by Evangelist DeGarmo, continues to enlist a number of workers who are seeking to be prepared for the largest possible work. The class meets this morning in the lecture room of the First Baptist church at 9:30.

At the inspirational services today at 10 o'clock Dr. Reese will speak. The quartet will sing. These services were attended more largely yesterday than the day before. Evangelist Scott delivered a good discourse on "Our Care for Our Children." The quartet sang one of its most effective numbers, "The Sun Shall Never Go Down."

At 11:30 yesterday Dr. Bruner led a service at the Gooch Marble works. The men there gave him a good hearing. At the Katy shops Evangelist Scott was accompanied by a trio of singers and had a splendid service. At the same time Evangelist Copass held a service at the Progress laundry. A very interesting meeting was held there. Some professions are reported.

At 1 o'clock yesterday Dr. Bruner and Professor Reynolds took lunch with Dr. and Mrs. Wright in the glorie demortory of Baylor. After-dinner services were conducted with the women ladies. The occasion was quite a pleasant affair.

Reports Last Night.
Dr. Wright spoke at Provident Heights last night. The people there are loud in praising his preaching.

At Brook avenue church Evangelist DeGarmo handed out hot shots on "Hell." The preaching was good. "I Dreamed of the Great Judgment Morning." One additional baptism. Pastor Melton continues hopeful in the Seventh and James streets church.

Evangelist Reese preached last night on "What Think Ye of Christ?" The sermon was especially interesting. Several professions were made. Six joined the church, two by baptism. Mr. Schofield sang "He's Looking on You."

Mr. Reese speaks tonight on "Prepare to Meet Thy God." At the First church Dr. Bruner spoke on "The Apostle's Prayer." He made three points: "Faith may be increased; faith needs to be increased; how may faith be increased?" The sermon was good and well received. The attendance was better and the people are arousing.

Evangelist Scott had a good hearing at East Waco. He preached on "The Second Coming of Christ." The sermon was quite effective. Good interest and progress noted.

At Ross avenue they had one of the best services. Two professions of faith and one joined the church for baptism. Dr. Hale delivered a telling sermon on "Salvation." Mr. Elsey sang with fine effect "Christ Rescued Me." Clay street continues to be swept with evangelistic fires. The sermon was on "Cross-bearing." The singing was the best yet. Nine joined the church, four by baptism.

Evangelist Copass had a good congregation at Pin Oak. He preached on "The Compassionate Savior." Fine interest and deep spirit of awakening. Three joined the church for baptism.

Gibbons Beats Berger.

New York, April 22.—Tom Gibbons, middleweight of St. Paul, brother of Mike, defeated Tom Berger of Lewiston, Maine, in a fast ten-round bout here tonight. In a ten-round bout in Brooklyn, Jack Britton, the Chicago lightweight, outpointed Johnny Dohan of Brooklyn.

KIDNEY TROUBLE

Results Most Feared by Mankind

Greatly reduced facsimile of package and bottle.

Ask any man or woman what disease they fear the most. If they think before replying, the answer will usually be Bright's Disease.

Ask them why, they will tell you that kidney disease is most dreaded because of its tendency to advance from the early stages of the trouble to the dangerous, or fatal stage, generally before the sufferer realizes he or she is dangerously ill.

This fear and worry on the part of humanity is needless—for, if the cause is properly cared for—the effect is done away with. Nature has equipped humanity with an effective system of danger signals, so that if the warning of a peculiar lame back, torpid liver, cloudy urine, inflammation of the bladder, is heeded—relief can be speedily found in the use of Port Arthur Losses $150,000.

Houston, April 22.—Officials of the Texas Refining company estimate their losses in the burning of barrel houses near Port Arthur late yesterday afternoon at about $150,000, some machinery being also destroyed along with several tank cars. The fire was some distance from the refinery, which was not damaged. Origin of the fire is not known.

Today's Beauty Recipes

By Mme. D'Milla.

"A woman feels like crying when she finds her comb full of hair. Falling hair, and faded, dull and brittle hair means that the scalp is harboring a parasite that destroys hair. Mother's Shampoo removes these parasites and puts the scalp in clean, wholesome and healthy condition, so that the hair will grow luxuriantly."

"Eyes may sparkle like diamonds, or be the color of precious gems, but if the eye-lashes and brows are thin and straggly, their appearance will not be pleasing. Plain pyroxin massaged into the roots of the brows and lashes will cause them to grow long, even, silken and darker in color."

"Delatone is so popular as a superfluous hair remover because its use does not discolor or roughen the skin. To remove hair on the face or forearms cover the surface for a minute or two with a little paste made by dissolving delatone in water. When the paste is removed the hairs will be gone."

"Thin necks, brawny shoulders and undeveloped busts are greatly improved by the famous Vaucaire home treatment. Make a syrup of 1½ cups sugar and a pint of water; then stir in an ounce of aloe. Take two teaspoonfuls before each meal."

"Headaches, pains in back or joints, rheumatism, sore muscles and other aches yield to Mother's Salve, which penetrates the pores and relieves almost instantly."

"Every woman is responsible for her complexion, and a good complexion is woman's greatest charm. To correct facial blemishes, remove muddy spots and make the skin fresh, fair and lovely, gently massage the face, neck and arms each morning with a lotion made by dissolving an original package of maytane in a half pint of witch hazel."

WEDDING AT MOOREVILLE IS OF INTEREST HERE

Out at Mooreville this afternoon at 5 o'clock the home of the bride, Miss Georgia Bowman, will be opened to friends from far and near. These are bidden to the marriage of Miss Bowman to Dr. Watson of Cameron, from Belton, from Waco and many other points friends will gather for this notable event.

SAINT PAUL'S AUXILIARY TO POUR TEA ON MONDAY

It is now arranged that in the home of Mrs. John Lewis Burgess on Austin avenue, Saint Paul's auxiliary will be at home during next Monday afternoon. Miss Gertrude Bush is arranging the musical feature, and other details are developing under the direction of the auxiliary president, Miss Ida Risher, which will give this pleasant opening to the week.

ANNUAL LIBRARY MEETING ON NEXT FRIDAY

Cards have been mailed to all members of the library association urging their attendance at the annual meeting which takes place on Friday afternoon.

The little band of the faithful who have administered the library affairs for so long makes this annual appeal for members of the association to attend at least once a year and thus manifest interest as well as lend encouragement to the work done.

MESDAMES WELLS AND COWAN AT HOME FROM HOUSTON

Among the recent homecomings is that of the Mesdames Louis Wells and Lee Cowan, who spent a few days in Houston. They report a cozy little home with Mrs. H. T. Crawford, who has beautiful apartments at the Saint James. The novelty of seeing twelve hundred of Uncle Sam's genuine soldiers in a parade was one of the sights. The troops were over from Galveston for a formal San Jacinto parade.

THE TEXAS FLAG HAS HOMAGE HERE

Never before has there been such general respect paid the Lone Star flag as has been done this San Jacinto. The Waco women, in their efforts to locate the flag in former years, noted the absence and determined that this should be corrected. Many bought flags and placed them before their doors in observance of our state holiday. Mrs. J. P. Carpenter, nothing if not original, conceived the plan of buying out the local shop supply and selling for her church circle. She was more than successful. All hail to the Waco women's patriotism!

A HOUSEWARMING PARTY FOR MRS. H. T. CRUGER

By invitation of the Mesdames James Barnard and Fred Holding, a company gathered at the new home of Mrs. H. T. Cruger and Miss Nettie Autrey, 704 North Fourteenth street. This proved a surprise and a miscellaneous shower. A delightful time was passed. Dainty refreshments were served. Music, both voice and piano, whiled the time. The general good cheer filled the home, and thus dedicated it to the loving thought of friends and the generous hospitality of hostesses. Those who participated in this housewarming are: Mesdames Barnard, Holding, C. M. Henry, T. N. McMullen, Julian Prade, W. P. Little, J. M. Curry and Miss Agnes Krause.

THE SHAKSPERE CLUB GIVES LUNCHEON DATE

It is now announced that the annual Shakspeare club luncheon will take place at the Huaco club on the eighth day of May. From present indications and the size of the club, it is predicted that this will be the largest luncheon assembly ever at the Huaco. The details are being worked by an able committee, with Mrs. R. B. Spencer chairman. The members are inviting guests, and this is in addition to celebrating the birth of the patron of the club in honor to the three members, the Mesdames M. E. Manton and N. E. Burgess, with Miss Zoe Fitzhugh, who will tour Europe in the same party this summer. Owing to the late departure in early June, the date has been somewhat advanced from the accustomed Shakspeare birthday.

MISS LILIAN WESTBROOK HAS BRIDGE SEASONS

It was the first of a first season outing for the Bridge Juniors in their last game. Miss Lilian Westbrook invited the club with escorts out to her home in Alta Vista for the monthly evening game of bridge. There the guests greeted Miss Emma Prendergast, who is up from Austin for a few days with Miss Westbrook. Also Miss Jimmie Horne, and Miss Sophie May Lambdin of Georgia, were guests. The scores reckoned, it was found that the favors were won by Miss Horne and by Paul Williams of Austin. The tables were removed after refreshments and a round or two of dancing enjoyed. Those present were the Mesdames Horne, Prendergast, Mayday Caulfield, Margaret Westbrook, Virginia Westbrook, Enrique Smith, Lambdin, Dixon Holloway, Nancy Lucy, with Messrs. Stephens, Priddy, Webb, Parsons, Williams, Maynard Darden, Lawrence Westbrook, Paul Riggins and Frank Wood.

THE CITY FEDERATION TO MEET THURSDAY

Mrs. Lennox announces a meeting of the City Federation on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at the library. This is the annual meeting and will also find the adoption of a new constitution, the Federation having outgrown the one made when it was first formed. Also, the delegates from the Edna meeting will give talks of what happened and how. Other matters are to be introduced. In all, the meeting will be full of interest, and it is the earnest desire of the president to have all the club women present. Officers for another year are to be elected. Reports of the past year's work are to be given. The women owe it to themselves to attend and thus to become familiar with that of which they are a part. Also it is their duty of appreciation to the officers who have served them to be present and manifest interest in what has been accomplished by the administration. Appreciation is all which can be given, and this certainly is due those at the head of federation matters.

MISS DECCA LAMAR WEST WINS MUCH PRAISE

"Victory in defeat" is the manner in which the Waco delegates express the loss of the chief office in the club district by five votes only. The delegates insist that Waco was the cause of her candidate's loss; that Waco had votes which she did not use, owing to the long distance and the expense of the trip to cast that vote. All Waco appreciates Miss West's ability, and while Waco should feel keenly her dereliction, still, it is gratifying to know the number of friends Miss West has in the district. But the victory in defeat was her own manner of accepting the same. The Waco delegation reports enthusiastically Miss West's capturing the contention in the magnificent manner in which she met the count of the ballot. She went to Edna unknown to many of the South Texas women, and met many who were previously committed to the South Texas candidate. She went far away from her own club neighborhood. She returns with the enthusiastic admiration of every woman who attended the Edna convention. Thus it is truly victory in defeat.

A GROOMSMEN DINNER AT THE HUACO CLUB

As the return courtesy for being preferred friends of L. A. Brooks and Miss Berta Mackey who had requested their services as attendants for their wedding, the men of the Brooks-Mackey bridal party were hosts at an elaborate dinner party out at the Huaco club on Monday evening. Mr. and Mrs. James Mackey were invited to take place at the table. The buffalo color was used very effectively as the floral pattern of the table. The sentiment of the occasion was bespoken in a heart-shaped place card. For more than two hours the merriment passed, and adjournment found the party at the church for rehearsal. Those present were Misses Rebecca McKenna of Fort Worth, Rose Nelson of Corsicana, Gertrude Bush, Clara Primm, Eleanor Blair and Viola Barton, with the Mesdames Lowe of Weatherford, Lewis of Dallas, Damon of Corsicana, with the Messrs. John B. Fisher, William Thrasher, Gardner Gillespie, Jerome Cartwright, Joe Wilson, George Cole, Upieger, Hutcherson and Charles Smith.

BEAUTIFUL SHOWER FOR MISS MACKEY

Among the many social social courtesies shown Miss Berta Mackey none was more effectively carried out than was the linen shower in which Mrs. Foster Fort was hostess. This being the only shower for Miss Mackey the fifty friends invited from among Mrs. Fort's young matrons and girl list vied in selecting beautiful pieces. In deference to the importance to a bride's lingerie chest, Mrs. Fort had them delivered in an elaborate manner. The guests arrived and greeted, it was to admit the setting of the company rooms. The Easter lily was quite in evidence, in vase, on pedestal and on mantel shelf. The two mantels were palm screened, and each projected into a pink laid platform. Previously the packages had been handed privately. All were heaped into a Cupid cart where pink was over bunched with the natural carnation. To this were harnessed by pink ribbons Masters Ned Bolton and Foster Fort. Cupid was little Marie Pryor Brazelton, dainty little figure holding the lines over her heap of tissue tie. Miss Mackey in the meantime took the platform seat and was surrounded by her maids. The wagon passed and Cupid's gifts opened. Following was the formal good wish, following around the punch bowl. This set upon a table vased in the lilies and set with the mint trays in pink and other dainties. The sandwich trays were passed and the punch dipped by Mrs. Leslie Gardner with the Mesdames Al Brazelton, Monette Colgin, Cordelia Webb and Clara Primm. There, Miss Ida Duke toasted the bride-to-be, and read a letter from the bride's former teacher, Mrs. Willie D. House. Miss Gertrude Bush said the words for the groom and Miss Viola Barton for the girls left behind. It was all very pleasant, a beautiful tribute from Mrs. Fort to Miss Mackey. About fifty enjoyed the afternoon.

the sacred moment to her was quiet, simple, yet withal, very pretty.

In this marriage Mrs. J. E. Allison relinquished the first from her family and gave into the keeping of one of the most exemplary young business men of this city her only daughter. It was the desire to have this occasion one of sweet solemnity, as only those very near the family were invited to participate. Reverend C. T. Caldwell, of the First Presbyterian church, was the celebrant. There were no attendants except the younger sister, Miss Mary Allison. The rooms were embowered with the fresh foliage spring plants, and given a floral relief in the Ascension lily, the white being supplemented by a tone of pink in the punch room. The musical feature found the sweet voice of one of the bride's closest friends, Miss Bettie May Hill. Miss Hill also gave the piano cadence to tell the coming of the bride. The costume gave patronage to the spring warp and tone in an ecru traveling suit. In the becoming had appeared a dash of the now popular Nell Rose and its contrast in blue. The bride's bouquet of buds and ring lilies was especially beautiful. The ring feature intensified the sentiment in the service. Following came the congratulations. These were sincerely given, for, as said, it was only those close in the friendship tie who were present. Besides, no sweeter, more worthy young bride has received congratulations. And the young husband gives that promise for future success which assures his bride's right to be congratulated.

Mr. and Mrs. Holloway are now spending a week at the Saint Anthony.

Returning, they at once begin house-keeping in an attractive bungalow out on Sanger avenue. They take into this many and handsome pieces which made the collection of remembrances for their wedding day. No cards, either of invitation or announcement, were sent, and yet many voluntarily expressed their interest in the event by adding a rare piece to the wedding gifts.

The International Harvester Company threatened to remove its plant to Germany because of the strike by its employees, and the people of Albany howled. Recent doling of the Missouri legislature have resulted in one company having practically a monopoly of the State's oil business, and in driving out the fire insurance companies, and people and press are grumbling. Meanwhile Trust-buster Looney goes on his way merrily thwacking the industrial plants and commercial development reputation of Texas.

"The proposition to annex Sonora to the United States sounds like a plot to put a bumble-bee in Uncle Sam's hip pocket," says the Philadelphia Telegraph. Not in his hip pocket, semolina friend of ours, not in his hip pocket—in his waistcoat pockets, all four of 'em. Take a look at the recent crop statistics by States and awake to the fact that Texas is in front, not in the rear.

The nephew of the president of Ecuador didn't give a whoop for his uncle's threat to disinherit him, and he married that American girl. The nephew of a European nobleman would be as little disturbed by such a threat under like circumstances—but if her father threatened her with disinheritance—nix marriage.

BEGIN AT HOME.

Louisiana and Texas wanted Wilson; they got him, and now they don't want him. Some people can't stay satisfied. —Florida Times-Union.

Certainly the people of Texas are satisfied with Mr. Wilson. Their delegates at Baltimore wanted him because the State wanted him, and they were the chiefest factor in getting him. The nation realizes this. Merely because the people of Texas, or a certain number of them and a certain proportion of their press do not quite agree with the president's tariff reform program signifies nothing at all in their general attitude toward him, their esteem for him. They consider him a big man, big in honesty, big in mentality and spirit. But is that any reason why they should subvert their views of what is best for the State's commercial and industrial development, of what the nation's resources need, in this tariff reform business—should utterly sink their views in his and in the views of the Democratic house leader? This does not in the least lessen Texans' admiration for and support of Mr. Wilson; but the support of no president of this nation has ever been chary of voicing its protest when it considered the president's policy was not adapted for the good of its most vital concerns. So in this tariff situation, the Democrats of this region do not believe the leaders at Washington are proposing the best disposition possible, in a revenue basis program of reform, of the duty on sugar, rice and wool; they are telling the president so. They do not believe that program as it now stands is wholly compatible with the justness of reducing tariff on refined products proportionately with the tariff on raw; they are telling the president so. There is no reason why States should not act in this regard, if they honestly believe their interests are being avoidably mistreated. And the Times-Union would do well to look within. The Times-Union, and much of Florida, was for Mr. Underwood. The Times-Union, and much of its State, opposes free wool and free sugar, and the Times-Union, a sterling newspaper, refers to both as "mistakes and unjust." But the Times-Union has no complaint to make of Mr. Underwood, who is the real author of this tariff program, root and branch, sugar and wool. Had Mr. Underwood been elected and had he prosecuted this plan of tariff revision, would the Times-Union have been timorous of stating its case against the wool and sugar features? We think not. Texas is satisfied with Mr. Wilson; if Texas desires to see its industries more justly dealt with, does that fact alone vitiate its satisfaction?

The New York senate refused to believe that Stillwell would try to steal well.

MANHOOD SUFFRAGE.

At first thought it would appear that the Belgian strikers for manhood suffrage should have the unqualified sympathy and commendation of the people of this republic, considering the common enough antagonism to imposing educational and property-owning qualifications for the franchise that obtains in most of the States. North Carolina once was immersed in a bitter struggle over the question of manhood suffrage versus the property requirement. But there are States wherein a man must be able to read and write before he may be registered as a voter. And there are other States imposing equally definite qualifications while others, Texas among them, permit a man to vote if he is of age, a citizen or has declared his intention of becoming a citizen, and pays a poll tax. The New York World's discussion of the Belgian strike, which has been much quoted throughout the nation and is, at least by implication, favorable to the issue in Belgium, reminds that the United States and France are really the only large republics that "trust the political judgment and conscience of the average man."

In Belgium, a man over thirty-five with children, or over twenty-five with a certain amount of property, has two votes. More property, higher education or official position confer three votes. "The two-vote and three-vote men govern the one-vote men, who are fifty per cent more numerous."

While an American citizen, imbued with the Democratic spirit of his land, cannot find justice in such an arrangement, there are hundreds of thousands of American citizens who believe there should be an educational test—a literacy test in reading and writing—the language of the land—for the suffrage. The Pittsburgh Dispatch, considering the Belgian situation, takes this latter position squarely and finds that the strikers brought a deal of the present controversy on themselves, saying "the Belgian strike is the suffragette principle confined to industrial obstruction. Because the Belgian workingmen consider themselves unjustly restricted in the suffrage qualification they propose to halt industry until the alleged wrong is righted."

We admit we cannot see the righteousness of such a strike, be the motive for it a protest against governmental control by property owners and the better educated, or by the parent as opposed to the unmarried man, or the childless man, or be it a struggle to obtain the franchise under any conditions. There is small heroism in thus destroying the commercial life of a nation, in thus bringing about starvation, violence and suffering, in these "civilized days," concerning an issue directly political. Especially is this judgment a just one if it be true, as the Dispatch points out, that the suffrage provisions Belgians are now striking against were conceded to them a few years ago and accepted with effusion as a means of settling a preceding political strike; the extra votes for property or education now being denounced as unjust were at their inception "hailed by the same class as a popular triumph."

The Dispatch advances an argument we like in respect to prescribing an educational qualification for the franchise, taking the view that whether the Belgian prescription is unjust or not depends on whether any class has superior opportunities for acquiring the necessary property or education than workingmen have. "If there are equal chances in this respect (it says) the man with thrift and foresight enough to provide a little property or with intelligence enough to get a primary education will probably make a better voter than the one who will not save his money or learn to read and write. We have always rather fancied that progressive suffrage scheme in theory, though in practice in this country it is probably not feasible of adoption."

It is not. And in states like Texas—that is, with Texas' lack of franchise restrictions, the suggestion would be laughed to scorn. But the movement the nation over for a literate electorate is not going to pass Texas by. The ballot-marking bill lately vetoed here, no matter what may have been the local reasons for its framing, is an example of this growing demand. An educational test for the ballot means a compulsory education law for the State. Compulsory education means a lessening of the danger of corruption in politics, fewer ignorant tools for the ring workers who can read and write. And who will deny that an electorate capable of voting of its own judgment, capable of reading and marking its ballot, is to be desired above all else in the American political system. More than "manhood," more than the mere majority in years, is needed in this day and time as a prerequisite to the giving of the ballot.

ORIGIN OF THE KNAPP PLAN.

Texans should be especially interested in the bulletin lately issued by the George Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville, in connection with the work of the Seaman A. Knapp School of Country Life—the school that is a memorial to the founder of farm demonstration work in the South, the founder of boys' corn clubs and girls' canning clubs, agreed on by the Knapp memorial committee that was organized with representatives from every Southern State after the death of Dr. Knapp in April, 1911. It was in Kaufman county, Texas, that Dr. Knapp began his system of farmers' co-operative demonstration work, a system that has become world-famous and world-adopted within ten years, after he had given several years of his life to the development of the rice industry in Texas and Louisiana. It is gratifying to read of the success he achieved in this work in a bulletin issued from an institution that bears his name and to know the value the world places on expert demonstration work for farmers, a method lately deprecated by the executive committee of our State Farmers' Union as tending to "treat the farmers like children."

"The Farmers' Co-operative Demonstration Work," this bulletin tells us, "was started in a small way in 1903. Dr. Knapp visited one small farm near Terrell, Tex., about twice a month and directed the operations there. Neighboring farmers met him in field meetings. At the close of the year he had proved that cotton could be grown in the face of the boll weevil, and he was urged to extend his teachings and his methods throughout the whole country devastated by the pest. The next year, with funds furnished by congress, and by local business men, he appointed a few agents and began to organize different counties in Texas. The work soon attracted the attention of the country. Congress enlarged its appropriation, local aid was increased, and the work was extended to Louisiana and Mississippi. About this time the General Education Board of New York asked to be allowed to appropriate money, for similar work in other cotton States. In a few short years this great work had covered the entire South, had a force of a thousand agents, an enrollment of one hundred thousand farmers, seventy-five thousand boys in the corn clubs and twenty-five thousand girls in the canning clubs. Every state in the South began to show an increase in the average corn production per acre, as well as other crops, and Southern corn club boys attracted the attention of the world by producing more than two hundred bushels of corn to the acre at low cost. Girls, too, demonstrated practical, scientific work in garden and home. During the year of his death, Russia, Brazil, England, South Africa and Argentina sent representatives to this country to study the demonstration work. Sir Horace Plunkett, the Irish reformer, came for the same purpose and at the request of the king of Siam, Dr. Knapp sent one of his agents to take charge of agricultural matters in that country. Mrs. Knapp expressed the belief that all of her husband's career had been providentially guided as a preparation for the great work he did in his closing years. Dr. Buttrick summed it up by saying: 'Seventy years of preparation for seven years of work.' A leading Southerner spoke of him as 'Teacher, farmer, philosopher and statesman.' Dr. Walter H. Page said of the demonstration work that 'it is the greatest single piece of constructive educational work in this age or any age.' Forrest Crissey called him 'the missionary bishop of American agriculture.'"

Texas Viewpoints

Chicago, Not Utopia.

Lieutenant Governor O'Hara of Illinois, promises to rid Chicago of immoral cafes, immoral hotels, immoral stores, immoral factories and immoral women. O'Hara must be a modern David, a Democratic shepherd of the flock. But what disposition will he make of the immoral men?—Fort Worth Record.

O'Hara is less a modern David than a modern rob. His antics have all most rubbed the vice probe of its seriousness. But why does the Record modify its adjective to "immoral" in favor of the men? O'Hara, it must remember, ascribes to the men the chief cause of the evil unrooted in Chicago. And O'Hara has no intention of or power to depopulate Chicago. He will make no disposition of its immoral men, therefore.

Essentials for Clean Towns.

Greenville needs trash cans. They should be on every corner in the business district. Such receptacles help to keep the city clean, and a clean city is something to boast of. During the dry weather papers blow about the streets, but with trash cans the papers can be put away for keeps.—Greenville Banner.

A good preachment. The prime essential in every clean town crusade is the education of the householder. In that the press may share. But there are several essentials peculiarly within the province of local authority—city commission, council and health board. Trash cans may be mentioned as one of these essentials, but there are allied essentials of greater importance. There must be an ordinance with a penalty for throwing such trash in the streets, or anywhere but in private or street receptacles. There must be police who will enforce this ordinance without discrimination as to race, color, wealth and political pull.

Making Muck.

The methods of the Standard Oil company embody the squaring out of all possible competition. It does not hesitate to virtually give its product away for a season if necessary to put a competitor out of business, and when that competitor is thus retired, it proceeds to raise the price of its products to the point where the consumer soon pays for what was thus wasted, in addition to a substantial bonus to the Standard company for its action in completely monopolizing the field. Every independent oil company operating in Texas and the entire Southwest has from time to time felt the mailed hand of the Standard, and has had to pay tribute to its methods, and it is on that account that the proceedings instituted by the State of Texas against the great octopus is being watched with eager interest throughout the oil circles of the Southwest.—El Paso Times.

These proceedings are being watched with eager interest, well enough, and by every oil company, but not "on that account." The State's action at this time is not directed against the sort of monopoly the Times is trying to describe—action of that sort was had in Texas some five years ago, and the survivor of that ancient action certainly is watching these proceedings against the Magnolia and Corsicana with a little more than "eager interest." And if the Times' editor will watch with equal interest what developments at the termination of these pendulous receiverships he may not have to depend in future on fifteen-cent magazines and Miss Tarbell's compilations for snap judgment of what is going on in his own State. If he can point to any methods, on the part of the two companies we have mentioned, such as he describes, as leading up to the pending prosecutions, he is rather an unusually valuable man at this time and should be in demand by Trust-buster Looney if these causes shall come to trial in Trust-buster Looney's burg. Judged from the above, what the Times editor does not know about the "interest of independent oil companies operating in Texas" in these ouster suits would fill several columns of his especial page.

Arbor Day.

The 28th of April is Arbor Day. Our tree-need guardians and tree planting in this country needs especial attention. Arbor Day helps this not so much directly, since the actual tree planting is insignificant compared with the annual destruction, but in awakening an interest in the care, the worth and beauty of trees and the actual tree culture. The children of today cannot be cultivated in a better cause.—Longview Times-Clarion.

The "annual destruction" of trees is due mostly to ignorance on the part of many of those charged with the care of them, and nearly as much to the fact that residents in a majority of Texas cities concern themselves very little with the care of those fine shade trees they are so proud of and brag so much about to visitors. Since city governments are not charged with taking decent care of trees on the public streets, trees in Texas towns usually receive attention only on the infrequent rounds of the State agricultural department's inspectors. Such inspections invariably result in warnings to the community that the trees are being improperly tended or neglected altogether. But the warning seldom is effective—the trees are in sight, and that's quite enough for the average resident. Trees on public streets are like water in the well, no more, in too many towns—missed when gone. And Texas trees are subject to many pests and diseases.

Hunger Strike Logic.

(Pittsburg Dispatch.)
Mrs. Fankhurst's hunger strike scores a temporary victory. After going ten days without food she is let out of prison with the understanding that when she gets over her self-inflicted starvation she will be taken back to prison and made to serve out the three-year sentence if the installment process takes ten years.

But this inevitably raises the question: Suppose Mrs. Fankhurst should form the dreadful resolution to starve herself in her own home unless the government gives her a full pardon or enacts female suffrage or does whatever else she wants. To this reply is that when people are at home whether they eat or not is their own business. A hunger strike in one's own dining room would seem to be effective mainly in furnishing material for new farce-comedies.

The philosophy of the hunger-strike is exactly the philosophy of hard-kart, only in reduced tension. If the suffragettes had resolved to bring disgrace on the British ministry by cutting their throats on Mr. Asquith's doorstep, they would have translated the Japanese sentiment exactly. Since they do not go to that heroic length—by the Japanese ethics—we confess to a scientific curiosity as to the result of this experiment. Let the hunger-striker alone. If she refuses to eat, let her go hungry. It is the duty of the government to see that the prisoner gets the three meals. If she refuses to eat one meal, leave it there till it is replaced by a fresh one. Let her go that way with the food constantly before her.

We have a very strong suspicion that by the tenth of twentieth day of that treatment nature would prove too strong for the most perverse hunger-striker and the terrors of that illogicality would be abolished.

DODGING THE BLUE ENVELOPE.

New Pastime is Popular Among Panama Officeholders.
(Panama Correspondence in the New York Sun.)

Dodging cable messages from Washington is one of the pastimes on the Panama canal today, a sport that is most appreciated by those most interested.

About a dozen of the more prominent officials of the canal force are political appointees, and they occupy now the position of a man with a top hat trying to dodge the snowballs that he feels sure will ultimately hit him, while the bystanders enjoy his predicament.

In this whole force of 6,000 Americans there are only a dozen men who hold offices that are likely to be interfered with by the new administration at Washington. These are the heads of the department of civil administration, whose salary of $14,000 a year makes him a bright target, and several chiefs of minor bureaus who are on the payroll at from $5,000 to $7,500 a year.

Some of these are really earning their pay, so that it is possible that they will not be disturbed. Ten of the dozen have been in the service in Panama more than five years and are anxious to wait until the first ship passes through the canal in October, while others who have been here only a short time appear just as desirous of watching that first ship, or perhaps of treading its deck.

All of the other important officials are army officers, while the mass of the American employees are in the classified civil service or expert artisans.

Farmer Found Hanging.

Corpus Christi, Texas, April 22.—The body of E. N. Short, a farmer, aged about 60 years, residing twelve miles west of Corpus Christi was found early this morning hanging in an out-house. From all indications the case is a suicide. Short had been in poor health and despondent. A widow and five children survive.

Statements in Two Hours Instead of a Day

A Transfer Company in San Jose, California, says that monthly statements which formerly took a whole day by hand are now made up in less than two hours with a Burroughs Bookkeeping Machine.

Many other business men say the same thing.

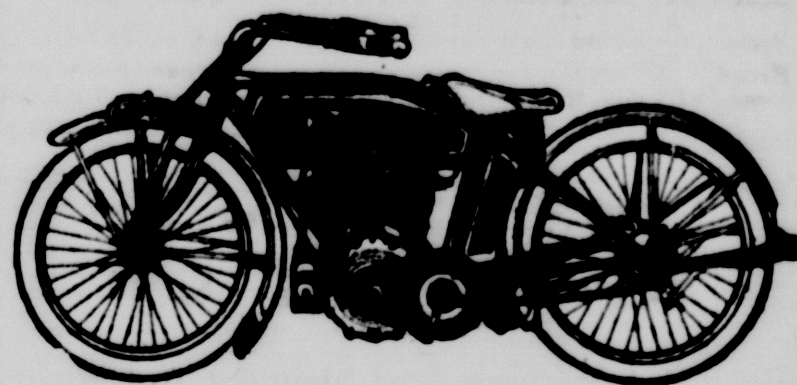

How much time does it take to make out your statements?

A Burroughs Statement Machine would reduce that time to 1-3—and make your statements neater, more business like, and absolutely accurate.

Then, it would work for you every day in the month on your other figure work—help to give you accurate cost records at a price you could afford to pay.

G. W. RAY DEFENSE IS BASED ON THE PLEA OF INSANITY.

Has Been Under Care of Physicians. John Sneed Files Suit Against M., K. & T.—Other Suits.

The defense in the case of G. W. Ray, negro, charged with the murder of his wife, Corrie Ray, introduced witnesses yesterday, calculating to show that man to have been of unsound mind when the crime was committed, and that he is insane at this time. Ray is charged with shooting his wife. The killing occurred March 1 at Mart, Dr. C. L. Hudson, formerly of Mart, now a resident of Waco, testified for the defense. He stated that about a year ago he treated Ray for his weakened mental condition, and that at that time the man was insane. He said Ray recovered from the disease, however, and the last time he saw him, a year ago, he was apparently normal.

J. W. Huddleston, city marshal of Mart, testified that in an official capacity he had often had his attention called to Ray. He said that while the man was working as a porter in a saloon, he often was called to quiet him. He testified Ray acted queer at times, but on direct question from defense attorneys as to whether in his opinion and from his observation of Ray for three years he thought the man insane, he said he was unable to answer the question.

The killing of the woman attracted considerable attention at the time. She was shot five times with a pistol.

Diet ~~and~~ Die

DOCTORS used to say "diet or die" but today the great specialists of Europe who understand Indigestion and Dyspepsia have proven absolutely that dieting is false in theory, mistaken in principle. The new practice is to help the stomach digest the food, by taking into it the elements which act on the food while the stomach rests—then eat, and keep on eating whatever you like, whatever looks good and tastes good. More people die of diet than of food.

EAT WHAT YOU LIKE

Digestit

WILL DIGEST IT

DIGESTIT will digest it, whether your stomach can or not. When the stomach stops DIGESTIT starts, it takes the stomach's part, fights the stomach's enemies and does its work when nothing else will or can. There is but one formula for the new treatment, and that is DIGESTIT. None genuine without name "W. L. Brown" on the label and on the box. Look sharp for that signature.

DIGESTIT -- twenty-five little tablets, easy to take, in each 25c. trial size package; big size, 50c. Commended by physicians and leading registered pharmacists for all forms of Gastritis, Indigestion and Dyspepsia, both acute and chronic; Biliatousness, Sour Stomach, Nausea, or Flatulency. SUIT FOR A MILLION

W. L. STOW DEMANDS AN ACCOUNTING AT HANDS OF MACKAY AND OTHERS.

Complaint Alleges That Defendants Sold Pooled Stock of Railroad for Him and Others.

New York, April 22.—Clarence H. Mackay, Henry Clay Pierce and C. H. Prince are named with others as defendants in a suit filed today by W. L. Stow, involving nearly $1,000,000.

The complaint demands an accounting for about 32,000 shares of stock of the Mexican Central railroad which was a part of 40,000 shares of the stock alleged to have been put into a pool in Wall street, prior to 1902, at which time the firm of W. L. Stow and company, members of the New York stock exchange, failed.

Stow declares in his complaint that the defendants formed the pool and that they sold 17,500 shares of the stock without letting any of the members of the pool know it. He claims they never rendered a full accounting, which he now demands.

COPPER MAN IS FORCED OUT

Mexicans Make the General Manager Go Because the Works Are Shut Down.

Douglas, Ariz., April 22.—James E. Douglas, of the Cananea Consolidated Copper company, who was ordered yesterday to leave Cananea, arrived here last night and related his experience.

Trouble had been brewing for a week, he said, owing to the company's shutting down more than half its works because of lack of fuel. Many of the 2000 thrown out of employment had been given odd jobs and supplies, but that did not appease the majority. Early yesterday, he continued, a crowd of 2500 persons surrounded his office and sent a delegation of four, accompanied by Colonel Alvarado of the state troops, and Prefect Durazo, to him with demands.

"They declared I must immediately appoint a successor as general manager of the company," he said; "that I must leave Cananea, as under article 32 of the Mexican constitution I had been adjudged by the people a pernicious character; that Governor Pascuera would arrive Tuesday with the demand that the mines be reopened and all idle men be put to work, and that if the company did not immediately operate the mines they would see that another company did."

Douglas said Colonel Alvarado had only 200 soldiers there and was unable to control the situation. "He advised me to leave, as did officials of the company, so I closed up my business as well as I could and left a few hours later. I don't know what the company will do."

Houston Judge Recovering.

Washington, April 22.—President Wilson and his youngest daughter, Eleanor, were being congratulated today on a narrow escape while automobiling last night. Just as the president's automobile turned a corner at Peace monument near the capitol a street car was brought to a sudden stop within a few inches of the president's car. The president was somewhat disturbed by the incident.

Houston, April 22.—Judge John Archer Read of the Sixty-first district court has never presided over the deliberations of that tribunal since his illness last November, he being too ill. At present he is recuperating at Asheville, N. C. He took the oath of office and at once departed, since which time Judge Norman Kittrell has continued to be elected special judge.

LAWMAKER CITES CASE OF TY COBB

AN ILLINOIS REPRESENTATIVE BRANDS ORGANIZED BASEBALL AUTOCRATIC TRUST.

INTRODUCED BILL IN CONGRESS

Wants to Confer With Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia—Cobb's Position Perplexing.

Washington, April 22.—Characterizing organized baseball as the "most audacious and autocratic trust in the country," Representative Gallagher of Illinois today introduced a resolution for an exhaustive inquiry into the operations of the national commission by a special commission of congress and would also direct the attorney general to investigate the baseball contract system for violations of the anti-trust law.

Mr. Gallagher expressed a willingness to co-operate with any other member of congress interested in any specific case and plans to confer with Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia, who, upon request, was forwarded a copy of "Ty" Cobb's contract with the Detroit club. Senator Smith wants to examine the terms of Cobb's contract.

The resolution would direct the speaker to appoint a committee of seven to investigate the operation and practice of the baseball trust to ascertain whether or not discriminations have been practiced in favor of or against players; whether players are now or have been prejudiced, coerced or restrained from the exercise of their just rights to enter into contracts of a fair and equitable nature; whether such a combination has been effected among baseball managers which would preclude competition and operate in restraint of trade.

This is sought, the resolution sets forth, "because the most audacious and autocratic trust in the country is the one which presumes to control the game of baseball; its officials, numbering daily through the press the dictates of a governing commission; how competition is stifled; how territory and games are apportioned; how the prices are fixed which millions must pay to witness the sport; how men are enslaved and forced to accept salaries and terms or forever be barred from playing, and of other acts incident to trafficking in a national pastime for pecuniary gain."

Hermann Makes Statement.

Cincinnati, April 22.—August Hermann, chairman of the national baseball commission, issued a statement today regarding the proposed investigation by congress, saying:

"This resolution is practically the same as the one introduced by Congressman Gallagher last year. We have nothing whatever to fear. In fact we rather invite a thorough and exhaustive examination of the whole matter, fully believing that if this is done that nothing but good can result to the game."

Cobb Not Crying for Help.

New York, April 22.—Ty Cobb's refusal to report for duty with the Detroit club because, among other things, he demands an increase in his salary to $15,000, has given publicity to the fact here that Cobb is one of the vice presidents of the baseball players' fraternity. The significance of this discussed in baseball circles is having an important bearing on the principles of the fraternity, for when the new protective union of baseball players was organized last October, one of the principal objects in view was declared to be the arbitration of disputes over salaries between players and their employers. An advisory board was appointed to handle just such cases and Cobb was named as one of the six members to serve in this capacity. So far as known, however, the advisory board has made no overtures for the arbitration of this matter. It is said that the board's failure to make any arbitration offer is due to Cobb's refusal to sanction such a move, as Cobb asserts there is nothing to arbitrate.

Ty Cobb Not Crying.

New York, April 22.—The baseball players' fraternity will take no action in the controversy between Ty Cobb and the Detroit club unless requested to do so by the parties and then only as mediator. Davis E. Fultz, president of the fraternity, asserted today that he regarded the matter as purely a private transaction between Cobb and President Navin and it was not only unfair but silly to attack the fraternity for not settling it.

"We have pledged the organization to have every reasonable obligation of the players' contract lived up to by both contracting parties," reads Mr. Fultz' statement, "and we shall do all within our power to see that the contract with the player is not violated. But enforcing a contract after made is a very different matter from attempting to dictate to others what the terms of their contract shall be."

"This whole affair is a private matter between Cobb and Mr. Navin. Cobb has a right to value his services at $12,000 or $150,000 as he chooses, and Mr. Navin has a right to pay it or not just as he sees fit."

"Should Mr. Navin and Cobb desire the offices of the fraternity in the settlement of this difference we should be very glad to do what we can."

Texas-Oklahoma Rates.

The interstate commerce commission made a recent decision that the rates which applied to Texas shippers to Oklahoma state were unfair to jobbers in Oklahoma and decided that more equal rates must be adopted. The rates were much lower from points in Texas to Oklahoma than from Oklahoma into Texas. The rates will be equalized, J. C. Dillard of the Waco freight bureau stated yesterday that the decision would very probably result in a realignment of the rates all over the state to points in that state.

Wilson Approved Court's Findings.

Washington, April 22.—President Wilson, today approved a court martial recommendation for the reinstatement on July 4 of Cadets R. Sasse of Delaware, J. D. Christian of Virginia, T. M. Simpkins of Georgia and E. H. Freeman of Florida, dismissed from the military academy for having intoxicating liquor in their possession.

WILL SEPARATE MEN FROM WOMEN

SONS OF HERMANN DECIDE SUCH A MOVE WILL BE BENEFICIAL TO THE ORDER.

HOUSTON MAN IS PRESIDENT

Report of Secretary Shows Order to Be in a Thriving Condition in Every Way.

Austin, Texas, April 22.—The Sons of Hermann started in at an early hour this morning to transact business that demanded attention. During the morning the reports of the various committees were read.

The proposition to separate the women's lodge from the men's met with approval, and steps will be taken at once to facilitate the separation.

The report of the secretary showed that on April 1 there were 257 brother lodges with a membership of 15,504 and sister lodges to the number of 132, with a membership of 4,441, making a grand total of 20,744 members. During the last two years there were organized twenty-five brother and thirty-one sister lodges, a total of fifty-six new lodges, with a membership of 4,565.

The race for the next convention has practically narrowed down to Houston and Fort Worth, with the latter city a favorite.

During the afternoon session the old question of seceding from the national grand lodge cropped out, but was quickly voted down.

The erection of a home for the aged and orphans of deceased Sons of Hermann was provided for in a resolution adopted by the grand lodge here today. It was unanimously adopted. A committee of five has been selected with full power to select the site for the home. The committee was authorized to call for and adopt plans for the home.

The grand lodge levied an assessment of 50 cents a year on each member of the order, or an annual fund of $15,000.

Late this evening the following officers of the Sons of Hermann were elected: Grand state president, August Haxthausen, Houston; first grand vice president, Julian Stapper, of Chicago; second grand vice president, H. Orndorff, of St. Louis; grand secretary, John Windlinger, of San Antonio; grand treasurer, G. A. Heilig, of La Grange. Other officers will be elected tomorrow.

WILL BOX FOR LEGISLATORS

Father of Boxing Bill Will Stage Bout to Convince Lawmakers It Is No Harm.

Chicago, April 22.—Senator Patrick Carroll, father of the boxing bill now before the Illinois legislature, has decided on a plan of staging an exhibition at Springfield for the benefit of the lawmakers, the chief actors in which will be several well known prize fighters.

Believing the best way to convince the legislators that there is no harm in ten-round bouts, he has arranged to stage three matches at the capital this week and have the men who are to decide whether there shall be a law permitting it at the ringside.

Senator Carroll is making the arrangements himself. He said he intended making an illustrated lecture of the affair. He said he would be within the ropes and make plain the good points of his bill as they are exhibited, blow by blow, by the fighters.

Past 40—and on the bum

If you're a close observer, not a day goes by that you don't hear some man who has rounded the forty-year mark say: "I have got to 'cut out' strong cigars or quit smoking"—and where's the man who is willing to give up the pleasure and comfort of his cigar?

It's not necessary—

neither do you have to smoke a poor cigar—if you will select one built right to meet the demands of quality and taste.

FIREMEN WAGE AWARD

ARBITRATION BOARD COMPLETES ITS WORK BEGUN ON THE FOURTH OF APRIL.

The Decision Will Affect 34,000 Locomotive Employees Who Want More Pay.

New York, April 22.—Judge W. L. Chambers, chairman of the arbitration board which has been engaged since April 4 in settling the wage dispute between the fifty-four Eastern railroads and the firemen employed by them, announced tonight that an award would be reached tomorrow, the last day allowed by the rulings of the United States supreme court. The decision probably will not be given out until evening.

Judge Chambers, who, with Albert D. Phillips, vice president of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Engine-men, and W. W. Atterbury, third vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, make up the board, have been in secret session almost constantly since the public hearings closed. The decision of the board will affect 34,000 firemen, who make demands for better pay, extra men on large locomotives and ten hours or a 100-mile trip to constitute a day's work.

Kumpf Sets New Bowling Record.

Rochester, N. Y., April 22.—A world's tournament record for independent bowling was established this afternoon, the last day of the National bowling association's seventh tournament, when George Kumpf, of Buffalo, rolling in next to the final squad, score 712. His games were 224, 234 and 254. This figure beats both the National bowling association and the American bowling congress mark of 705. Kumpf did not use a loaded ball in establishing his record.

STRIKERS ATTEND FUNERAL.

Victim of Detectives Bullets is Laid Away.

Paterson, N. J., April 22.—Several thousand silk mill strikers and sympathizers today attended the funeral of Modestino Valentino, who died Sunday from injuries received during a battle between a mob and private detectives last week. Led by Wm. D. Haywood and other Industrial Workers of the World, the strikers marched to the cemetery. Each mourner wore a red necktie and a red carnation.

Local News Notes

Complaint was filed by the county attorney's office yesterday against John Hamilton, tender at the Tietz Hotel bar, charging assault on manager. The case grew out of a difficulty in the saloon about a month ago, in which Hamilton is said to have struck S. B. Mills with a beer bottle.

Mills is alleged, has been confined to the hospital since that time. An examining trial will be given the man in Justice Harvey M. Richey's court Monday next.

Charles A. Weathered received a telegram yesterday from Rochester, Minn., that T. G. Glover, who has been operated on at that place for appendicitis, was resting well after the operation. Mr. Glover has been there for about a week. He has many friends in Waco who are keenly interested in his recovery.

W. C. McDonald, wanted by authorities in Mississippi, was captured yesterday by Officer Sam Sheppard at Fourth and Franklin streets. McDonald is charged with embezzlement.

Dr. R. G. Bowers, the first pastor of the Columbus street Baptist church, now of Little Rock, Ark., will conduct the prayer meeting at the Columbus street church this evening. It is possible he will preach instead of having the regular prayer meeting.

Rev. S. F. Gronen, pastor of the church, is ill and cannot attend. Dr. Bowers has many friends in Waco who remember him as the first pastor of the church.

Sam Binville, negro, wanted at Hubbard City, was arrested by Constable Leslie Stegall and Deputy Phil Hobbs yesterday on South Thirteenth street. An officer from Hubbard City will arrive today to return the man.

Mary Woods, negroess, charged with the murder of another negroess, was transferred from the city jail to the county jail yesterday. The woman is charged with stabbing Mollie Miller to death Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Althons of St. Louis, are in Waco for several days. Mr. Althons is connected with a manufacturing concern in St. Louis. Both are well acquainted here.

Dr. F. R. Bergius, the scientist who has been conducting experiments in producing artificial coal, has, by employing a high temperature and a high pressure, changed cellulose to peat in a few hours. The same change by the process employed by nature, he states, required 7,000,000 years.

New York has forty-six traffic accidents every three months for each 100,000 of population, while Buffalo has fifty-eight.

MOST SICKNESS COMES FROM WEAK, INACTIVE KIDNEYS

Recent Reports Show Hundreds Suffer With Kidney Troubles and Don't Know It.

There are scores of nervous, tired, run-down people throughout the city, suffering with pains in the back and sides, dizzy spells, weakness of the bladder (frequently causing annoyance at night), who fail to realize the seriousness of their troubles, until such conditions as chronic rheumatism, bladder troubles, dropsy, diabetes or even Bright's disease, result.

All this is due to weak, inactive kidneys. The kidneys are the filters of the blood, and no one can be well and healthy unless the kidneys work properly. It is even more important than that the bowels move regularly.

If you suffer with such symptoms don't neglect yourself another day and run the risk of serious complications. Secure an original package of the new discovery, Croxone, which costs but a trifle, and commence its use at once. When you have taken a few doses, you will be surprised how differently you will feel.

Croxone cures the worst cases of kidney, bladder trouble, and rheumatism, because it removes the cause. It cleans out the kidneys and makes them filter out all the poisonous waste matter and uric acid that lodge in the joints and muscles, causing rheumatism; soothes and heals the bladder, and quickly relieves you of all your misery.

You will find Croxone different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It matters not how old you are or how long you have suffered; it is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results.

You can secure an original package of Croxone from any first-class druggist. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if it fails to give the desired results the very first time you use it.

Fort Worth, Texas, April 22.—Waco batted two Fort Worth pitchers, Kane and Brown, all over the field today and won easily, 6 to 2. Platzke, of the visitors allowed the locals only three scratch hits, all of which were bunts by McAvoy. He beat out by fast springing the hitting of Duguey and McLaurin with three safeties. The game was the features of the game.

Galveston 8, Beaumont 0.
Galveston, April 22.—The Beaumont Oilers played like a lot of high school boys this afternoon and Galveston had no difficulty in taking the opening game 8 to 0. Brummerhoff and Howell pounded for a total of thirteen hits, of which three were doubles and two triples, and these, combined with frequent errors and slow fielding all around, netted the locals their big string of tallies. Harbin used his cross-fire and wide out curve to good advantage against a popping cast wind and had the visitors at his mercy all the time. The only two hits made off his delivery were lucky drives, which surprised no one so much as the batters themselves.

Austin 2, Dallas 1.
Dallas, April 22.—The Austin Senators won the first game with Dallas this afternoon 2 to 1. Huenke held the visitors to three hits, but was liberal with his walk. Both of Austin's scores were started by a base on balls. In the first inning Netzel walked, was sacrificed to second, stole third and scored on Melver's at first. In the sixth Netzel again walked, went third on Bobo's double and scored on Melver's sacrifice fly. Dallas scored in the sixth on a walk, a sacrifice and Storch's single. The Giants filled the bases in the ninth and Taylor was yanked in favor of McCuller.

New York, April 22.—The New York and Philadelphia Nationals played a thirteen inning tie game here today, the score being 2 to 2.
The game was a wonderful pitchers' battle between Seaton and Witte, who went into the box for New York in the third inning after Luderus had hit Tesreau for a home run in the second period. Witte pitched the best ball, though Seaton did great work in the pinches. In the eleventh inning the Giants filled the bases with one out, but could not score. They opened both the twelfth and thirteenth with doubles, but Seaton again tightened.

Chicago, April 22.—With the stars and stripes and the Detroit pennant inverted on the flag poles of the pavilion and the lineup of the local American League team changed, Callahan today managed to check the winning streak of Detroit.
The score was 3 to 2. Manager Callahan decided to remove Bodie from center and placed Mattick in that position, while Ted Easterly, the hard hitting pinch hitter, relieved Schalk in catching. Collins, after two men were out in the initial inning, knocked the ball into the left field bleachers for a home run.

John Beckley Offers Land to Open Extension of North Tenth Street.

John Beckley came before the city commission yesterday morning with a proposition to share expenses with the city in opening a stretch of street that will connect Harris street and North Tenth street, giving a continuous highway to the Brook avenue school.

North Tenth street is closed at the north end. There is to be an addition opened there with about thirty lots which are to be platted. The plan is to open a street from Baker street to Trice street, which will have these new lots on either side. At Trice street Mr. Beckley proposes to deed to the city a strip running to the present terminus of North Tenth street, but it will be necessary to grade and gravel this new street and to put in a bridge at Trice street. He agrees to share half the expense of the grading and graveling and the bridges if the city will share the other half. The matter was referred to Commissioner Foster.

BROWN RELATES INSIDE HISTORY

EXAMINING ACCOUNTANT OF INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION TELLS OF MERGER.

PULLMAN CONTRACT A LOSER

Sale of Sleeping and Parlor Cars to Pullman Causes Company to Lose Big Sum.

Boston, April 22.—An alleged loss to the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad of more than $400,000 annually as a result of its recent contract with the Pullman company by which the latter took over the parlor and sleeping car service of the railroad company, was described by David E. Brown, the examining accountant of the interstate commerce commission today. The testimony was given at a continued hearing on the service rates, policies and financial transactions of the New Haven company before Commissioner Charles A. Prouty.

Inside history of the merger of the Boston and Maine and the New Haven system was related for the first time. Mr. Brown describing in detail how the Boston and Maine stock was acquired by the New Haven road with special attention to the part taken by J. L. Billard of Meriden, Conn., in the matter.

Mr. Brown was examined by Louis D. Brandeis, counsel for the Boston Fruit and Produce Exchange. The parlor, chair and sleeping cars belonging to the New Haven road were purchased by the Pullman company for $3,300,000. Mr. Brown presented figures showing that the New Haven road in 1912 derived a net revenue of $1,217,827 from this service. By reckoning the expenses he announced his conclusions that the New Haven company had incurred an annual loss of $407,000 by turning the service to the Pullman company.

Taking up the Boston and Maine merger, Mr. Brown said that on April 6, 1907, at a special meeting of the directors of the New England Navigation company, a resolution was adopted authorizing President Mellin to purchase any or all of the common stock of the latter company with the capital stock of the New Haven railroad.

After the Navigation company had secured 109,948 shares of Boston and Maine stock it sold the stock to J. L. Billard for $125 a share, ex-dividend June 1, 1908. The price for this stock, Mr. Billard gave $11,000,000 in cash and $2,743,500 in notes without collateral. It appeared from the records that Mr. Billard secured the cash from the National City Bank of New York, depositing the Boston and Maine stock as collateral for the loan. In 1909 the stock came back to the Navigation company, which paid Billard $150 a share, but Mr. Brown said he had been unable to get any explanation for the transaction.

The Boston and Maine stock later was transferred to the Second National Bank of New Haven, then to the New Haven railroad, back again to the Navigation company and finally to the Boston Railroad Holding company, a corporation formed in Massachusetts to hold the stock.

Considerable time was devoted to the detailed testimony concerning various notes given by Mr. Billard and by the Billard company and the manner in which these were credited in various accounts.

Mellin's Statement.

Boston, April 22.—President Mellin of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, in a statement given out late today attacked the attitude of the accountants of the interstate commerce commission. He said they never made the slightest inquiry of him during their five months' examination of the New Haven company's books and indelicately repelled insinuations that "he profited personally eight or nine years ago by transactions with the New Haven road."

TO DECORATE GRAVES

COMMITTEES WHO ARE TO PUT FLOWERS AT THE CITY CEMETERIES.

Joint Meeting of the Veterans and the Daughters Is to Be Held Today.

Final details for the decoration of the graves of the Confederate soldiers buried in Waco will be made this afternoon at a joint meeting of the decoration committees appointed by the Confederate camp and those appointed by the Daughters of the Confederacy. Next Sunday is decoration day. On that day the graves of about 300 Confederate soldiers buried in Waco will be made fresh and green with flowers. The Daughters of the Confederacy will have direct charge of the decoration, to be assisted by the remaining veterans. The meeting will be held in the offices of Dr. A. F. Sontag, at 3:30 this afternoon.

The decoration committees from the United Confederate Veterans are composed of the following:

For Oakwood cemetery—Seth P. Mills, chairman; Gus H. West, John Moore, W. H. L. Lee, W. H. McWilliams and Robert McPherson.

For First street cemetery—J. H. Haggard, chairman; Smith Powell, F. M. Smith, Rev. S. H. Pollard, J. T. Rogers and M. Galtin.

For Greenwood cemetery—T. R. Cox, chairman; W. G. Polk, J. B. Harrell, W. H. Valden, H. C. Dumas, John Renfro and J. L. Strain.

TRAIN SERVICE IS ANNULLED

Rations Are Issued to Approximately 10,000 Persons by U. S. Army Officer on Scene.

Vicksburg, Miss., April 22.—Having widened more than a thousand feet, the Woodlawn crevasse continued caving slowly on either side and the rushing waters, which have rapidly spread throughout the counties of Issaquena, Sharkey and part of Washington, have also invaded the towns of Mayersville and Rolling Fork, and other smaller places will soon be under water.

Official announcement was given out during the afternoon that the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley railroad train service north of here was annulled following the three o'clock train, which was the last to leave for Greenville. Captain W. B. Baker, U. S. A., has issued a hundred thousand rations to various points north of here to provide for approximately 10,000 persons whom it is believed will be affected, in addition to which the issuance of rations from the steamer Nakomis at the scene of the Woodlawn crevasse will be added to the prompt relief work.

Captain Baker announced that after a conference with Governor Brewer and Mayor Hayes, a relief and refugee camp is to be established at Vicksburg. Mayor Hayes is appointed to take charge of the local relief work.

Memphis Sends Good Report. Memphis, Tenn., April 22.—With the Mississippi river either falling or stationary at all points north of Greenville, Miss., tonight danger of additional breaks in the embankments north of that city is now considered remote. At Memphis the river fell two-tenths of a foot today, the reading at 7 o'clock tonight showing a stage of 40.3 feet. Greenville reported 50.1, a fall of one-tenth. At Helena and along the White river front the river is practically at a standstill.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY. WANTED—A colored woman to do general house work. J. I. Naman, Fifteenth and Barron.

Fires Threaten Homesteaders. Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan, Canada, April 22.—Fanned by a high wind, forest fires have been menacing settlers in the southern part of the province since Saturday. Some homesteaders have lost their all. Stock growers face financial distress by loss of grass.

Mexico Levies Export Tax. Mexico City, April 22.—The senate passed tonight the measure providing for an export tax of ten per cent on gold. The measure will become effective upon the president signing it, which probably will be tomorrow. This measure, the government believes, will aid in maintaining the parity of exchange.

Rupture Expert Here

Seeley, Who Fitted Czar of Russia, Called to Waco.

F. H. Seeley of Chicago and Philadelphia, the noted truss expert, is at the New State Hotel and will remain in Waco Wednesday only. Mr. Seeley says: "The Spermatic Shield Truss as now used and approved by the United States government will not only retain any case of rupture perfectly, affording immediate and complete relief, but closes the opening in 10 days on the average case. This instrument relieved the only award in England and in Spain, producing results without surgery, harmful injections, treatments or prescriptions." Mr. Seeley has documents from the United States government, Washington, D. C., for inspection. All charity cases without charge or if any interested call he will be glad to show the truss without charge or fit them if desired. Any one ruptured should remember the date and take advantage of this opportunity.

CESS POOL IN CITY

MAYOR POINTS OUT DEPLORABLE CONDITION IN DOWNTOWN ALLEY.

Accumulation of Dirt and Filth in Alley Between Austin and Franklin.

After the meeting of the commission yesterday morning Mayor Mackey took Commissioners Bollins, Canfield and Foster through the alley between Austin and Franklin, that runs from Third to Fifth and pointed out as bad sanitary conditions as it is possible to exist in town or country.

At one point there is a small horse stall in which a mule was hitched. The floor of the stall was covered several inches in manure and hay, and is a fine breeding place for flies.

Between Third and Fourth there is an accumulation of trash and dirt that indicates a very bad condition from a standpoint of sanitary rules.

Between Fourth and Fifth the mayor pointed out water closets that have long since dissolved partnership with the water system and the sewer system, a large cess pool has formed and the most approved unsanitary condition exists.

There are other accumulations of dirt in this alley that help to make the situation bad.

The matter was brought up at the meeting of the commission by the mayor. He said the conditions had been reported to him. He believes there is need in Waco for more sanitary inspectors. The mayor said to the commission "The conditions existing in the business district are deplorable."

Commissioner Littlefield—There is a full crew of inspectors.

Mayor Mackey—There are not enough inspectors. It is a physical impossibility for them to cover the ground. I believe Mr. Wakefield is doing his duty as far as he can. If the commission will sustain me I will put on enough men to clean up this town. The town is not clean.

Commissioner Littlefield—I am sorry they have been annoying the mayor with their complaints; it looks like they will never learn to report the matters of this kind to me.

Mayor Mackey—I think there should be an inspector in each ward.

Commissioner Bollins moved that a sufficient number of inspectors be put on.

Commissioner Littlefield said that if the commission wants to order the inspectors on he is willing.

The matter was deferred until Friday and after the meeting of the commission the mayor took the three commissioners, who accepted his invitation, for a tour of sanitary inspection. The Morning News accompanied the party and nothing worse has been seen.

A complaint was also made to the commission of the lack of drainage of a gully on private property at Twentieth and Jefferson streets where water stands all the time under a grove of trees, making a fine breeding place for mosquitoes.

MEN OF PEACE UNDER GUARD

First Train Leaves Matamoras, Mexico, With Federal Soldiers as Protection.

Brownsville, Tex., April 22.—A military train left Matamoras today with two hundred men comprising soldiers of the twentieth battalion and twenty-seventh regiment and a number of volunteers and federal employees.

The train went out as escort to a party of eight peace commissioners who have been in the United States the past two weeks. It will go as far as Aldamas, where it will be met by troop trains sent out of Monterey this morning and which will return to Monterey with commissioners. This was the first train out in twelve days.

Railroad and federal telegraph lines between Monterey and Matamoras were again put in operation today and guarded by four hundred men.

Recent corrections in maps of Green-land have added about one hundred and fifty thousand square miles to its area.

REFUSES COUNTED QUORUM.

Governor Vetoes Lot of Bills Which Were Illegally Passed. Nashville, Tenn., April 22.—Governor Hooper yesterday returned forty bills to the legislature without his approval. In the case of a majority of them the governor held they were illegally passed, as they were not acted upon by a quorum of the legislature. By this action he refused to recognize the "presence" of a band of legislators who left the state but who were recorded as "present and not voting" on many ballots. It is reported the governor will send back 100 more bills vetoed on the same ground. 4-27

VICE ATTORNEY REFUSES WARRANT

ALLEGED MILLIONAIRE PANDERER IN CALIFORNIA MAY ESCAPE LAW'S CLUTCHES.

MORE EVIDENCE IS SUBMITTED

Chief of Police Brings In Two More Victims Who Give Additional Testimony.

Los Angeles, April 22.—Vice District Attorney McCartney refused today to issue a felony warrant against George H. Bixby, a Long Beach millionaire, in connection with the alleged enslavement of two score young girls.

Chief of Police Sebastian demanded the warrant as a result of the story told by Irene Mary Brown Levy, one of the young women who said they were enticed to a lodging house by Mrs. Joseph Rosenberg, the woman now in jail on charges of having acted in behalf of a man known as the "Black Pearl."

Mr. McCartney said he must have corroborating the story of the Brown Levy girl and immediately Sebastian brought in two new girls, Jeannette Ellis and Marie Devaughn. Their narratives resulted in the arrest of Bonnie Esby and her alleged assistant, W. H. Wood, who were charged with pandering to the "Black Pearl" and his alleged millionaire associates.

Mr. Bixby, who is 45 years old and has a wife and five children, declared he was the victim of an extensive scheme of blackmailing. As head of two banks and director in many corporations, he said he was selected as an easy victim.

Chief of Police Sebastian said that if the corroborative evidence offered by Jeannette Ellis and Marie Devaughn did not cause Mr. McCartney to issue the felony warrant against Bixby today, he would take the whole case to the county grand jury.

ALLEGED SUSPECT RELEASED

Evidence is Insufficient to Hold Man on Charge of Causing the New Boston Blaze.

New Boston, Tex., April 22.—Bert Watt, taken into custody at DeKalb Wednesday last and held under $1000 bond on a charge of arson, in connection with the burning of the home of J. E. Smith at this place, in which Smith received fatal burns and his three-year-old son killed, was released today without a preliminary examination. No evidence of character having been secured against him, Mrs. Smith and her mother, Mrs. F. E. Gravel, had remained here under summons as material witnesses. The fire at Smith's home occurred early on the morning of April 15. The child burned to death had followed his father into the house after he had once rescued it. Smith died the following day from his burns and for a time it was feared that the injuries sustained by another child and by Smith's housekeeper also would prove fatal, but both are recovering.

Wichita Falls, Texas, April 22.—A letter received here says that R. A. Thompson, former engineer of the Texas railroad commission and chief engineer for the Wichita Falls route, now engineer for the California railroad commission and who was offered appointment by Governor Colquitt of Texas as engineer to the newly created irrigation commission of Texas, has been offered and accepted a position with the interstate commerce commission at an annual salary of $7,500. Mr. Thompson, it is said, will be a member of the advisory board of the interstate commerce commission and his duties will be in connection with the physical valuation of the railroads of the United States as provided in a recent act by congress. Mr. Thompson was formerly employed by the interstate commerce commission in valuation appraisements.

He will leave California for Washington about May 1, it is stated here.

CLEAN SWEEP IN HOUSTON

All Rice Appointees Resign When Mayor Campbell Takes Office.

Houston, Tex., April 22.—Mayor Ben Campbell and his city commissioners today faced their duties in earnest. Nearly all appointees of the Rice administration resigned, effective on yesterday, which leaves a clear field for new appointments. The mayor has several juicy plum jobs at his disposal and there are hundreds of applicants. For market master alone seventy patriots are offering their services. Rumor says Ben S. Davidson will be the new police chief, but no official announcements are expected before late this afternoon, and possibly not until Tuesday next.

Over 100 Let Out. Houston, Texas, April 22.—Mayor Campbell shortly before noon "fired" over 100 city employees, including all special officers who have served here, before under Mayor Rice. Persons let out include street laborers and all classes up to heads of departments. His first day's work indicates he intends to make a clean sweep. At 10 o'clock tomorrow many of the new officials will be named. He also today reappointed Prof. P. W. Horn superintendent of the city schools.

NO COMPLAINT OF THE STANDEES

CITY ATTORNEY CANNOT PROSECUTE WITHOUT FORMAL CHARGES ARE MADE.

OFFICER TAYLOR MADE ARREST

Told Judge When Monday There Were No Vacant Seats—Fire Marshal Is Not Sure.

No complaint has been filed in connection with the alleged violation of the city ordinance prohibiting patrons of moving picture shows from standing in the aisles. An arrest for alleged breach of this ordinance was made Saturday night. Policeman Taylor, stationed on the Austin street beat, and Fire Marshal Dan Nicholson made the arrest.

When asked yesterday what disposition was to be made of the case City Attorney John Maxwell said there had been no complaint filed. "I am ready to prosecute any violation, but I am not a detective and can't go out and get the evidence," said Mr. Maxwell. Policeman Taylor stated Monday to Judge Joe Wren, following the adjournment of police court, that he was prepared to swear there were no vacant seats in the picture show at the time and that he had to push himself through a crowd to make an inspection of the building.

"I took careful note there were no vacant seats," said Mr. Taylor. "It is understood that Fire Marshal Dan Nicholson seems to be uncertain whether there were vacant seats at the time, and that he understands the city cannot prevent persons from standing in the rear of the auditorium. City Attorney Maxwell also construes the ordinance as not prohibitive of standees occupying the rear or rather front of the picture shows."

The provision of the city ordinance covering the case reads: "Article 17.—No audience of a greater number than the seating capacity of the auditorium shall be permitted in the auditorium during the operation of any moving picture machine and no one (other than employees of electric theatre) and officers of the law and regularly paid firemen when on duty shall be permitted to stand in the aisles, and they for only such length of time as their respective duties may require; all aisles leading to exits shall be kept open and free of any obstruction and all doors of exits shall open outward."

It is understood that the proprietor of the picture show in question claims there were sufficient vacant seats in his auditorium to seat all standing in the building, that the standees did not occupy these seats he explains by saying they were in couples and possibly could not find two adjoining seats.

Policeman Taylor says there were no vacant seats. City Attorney Maxwell said yesterday: "The motion picture proprietors have promised their co-operation in the enforcement of the city ordinance governing the conduct of their business. We hope to secure this aid. I can't go out and get the information, but the complaints are filed I am prepared to prosecute."

Riggins Request to Move Hogan House Is Referred to the Fire Commissioner.

At the meeting of the city commission yesterday morning a letter was read from the Geyser Ice company stating that work would commence at once to remove the frame building, for which permission was given at a recent meeting of the commission to be moved across Eighth street, from one point in the fire limits to another point in the fire limits, so as to make it fire proof, and thus conform to the city ordinance. The company further stated that the house would be removed altogether November 1 and would be replaced by a strictly fire proof building.

When this letter was read Commissioner Dollins said that his recommendation that this building be moved was his first official act and he had not had time to familiarize himself with the ordinance; that he was now better informed.

Directly after this the letter from J. W. Riggins asking that he be allowed to move the Hogan house across Austin street was read. This request was referred to Commissioner Dollins.

Attention Rebekahs. Waco Rebekah Lodge No. 16, I. O. O. F., will meet at K. C. hall on Thursday afternoon, April 24, at 7 o'clock. All members are urged to be present. Business of importance. By order of (Mrs.) Jennie E. Curry, N. G. (Mrs.) Mollie L. Watson, Sec.

SAM SANGER BIDS FOR CITY MONEY

OFFERS HIGH PRICE FOR BEING CITY TREASURER—LOWEST INTEREST ON OVERDRAFTS.

BOND IS MILLION DOLLARS

Nothing Requiring the Treasurer to Be a Bank—Three Banks Are Bidders Now.

Sam Sanger is a bidder for the position of city treasurer of Waco, three banks being bidders against him, but Mr. Sanger offers the highest price and agrees to charge the lowest interest on overdrafts.

In advertising for bids for the city money the mayor set forth the following specifications: A bond will be required in the sum of $1,000,000 as such treasurer, said bond to be filed within twenty days from said April 22. The successful bidder to be required to allow overdrafts by the city not to exceed $50,000.00 at any time and said overdrafts to bear not exceeding 6 per cent per annum interest.

"The custody of said funds of the city will be awarded to the highest and best bidder for such privilege, subject to all the rules, laws and regulations now locally in force, and the board of commissioners to be the judge of what is the highest and best bid, and the city to reserve the right to reject any and all bids. The person so selected will not qualify and will not be given the custody or inducted into office until the first regular meeting after the 20th of June, 1913."

When the bids were opened yesterday morning at the meeting of the commission the following were submitted: Sam Sanger, 4 1/2 per cent interest on the city balances, and an interest charge on overdrafts of 5 1/2 per cent. J. K. Rose, of the First National bank, 3 1/2 per cent on city balances, with interest charge of 6 per cent on overdrafts.

Central Exchange National Bank 3 per cent on city balances, with interest charge of 6 per cent on overdrafts. J. K. Rose, of the First National Bank, 3 1/2 per cent on city balances, with interest charge of 6 per cent on overdrafts.

There is nothing in the city charter that requires the treasurer to be a bank, nor is there provision for a city depository as has been suggested by the subcommittee. This question came before the commission several weeks ago and was generally discussed. It was shown that the treasurer has as much as three-quarters of a million dollars of the city money on hand, and some times more. The discussion in the commission lead up to the suggestion that with the bond that was then required many individuals could qualify, and it was deemed in the discussion better to make it so high that individuals would not be able to bid for it, and that it would remain in the hands of a few banks.

A new ordinance was adopted yesterday providing a bond of a million dollars, and that is what will be required of the man now selected.

The argument is that if the money is placed with a banker as treasurer it will be in circulation in this immediate locality, whereas it is given into the keeping of an individual not a banker that it will go elsewhere. None of this discussion, however, was had after it was known that Mr. Sanger was a bidder. It was during a colloquy in the commission some time ago.

Mr. Sanger can give the bond. Mr. McGhee, the present city treasurer, is paying the city 3 1/2 per cent, and he raises his bid to 3 1/2-10, and is the next bidder to Mr. Sanger. There will be three quarters of a million dollars to be turned over to the new treasurer.

The bids were referred to Finance Commissioner Caulfield.

Fine for Speeding Small Because It Was First Offense

Because it was their first offense and because they entered pleas of guilty, Dancy Welch and One Silverman were fined only $5 each in police court yesterday morning for speeding. "It's my first offense, and I have just bought my car, so I really didn't know just how fast I was going," said Silverman. The judge promised the fines would be larger next time.

The other cases of speeding were set for trial but postponement taken to secure evidence in them.

NOTICE Parties desiring earth for filling purposes, call on City Engineer, Independent telephone number 352 for terms. G. E. BYARS, City Engineer.

BYARS AGAIN IS CITY ENGINEER

FIRST OFFICIAL ACT OF COMMISSIONER FOSTER IS TO NAME HIM.

IS IN TOUCH WITH THE WORK

No Police Appointments Are Made. Several Are Suggested for City Physician.

For City Engineer—George E. Byars reappointed.

For Sanitary Inspector—J. M. Wakefield, reappointed.

For Sexton First Street Cemetery—J. H. Haggard, reappointed.

For Sexton Greenwood—B. H. Wilson, reappointed.

For City Scavenger—Harry White, reappointed.

The above reappointments were made yesterday morning, the nominees by the mayor having been first recommended by the commissioner in charge of the department in which the appointee is employed. As soon as they were named the commission unanimously confirmed the mayor's nominations.

The nomination of George E. Byars for city engineer is about the first official act of Commissioner Foster. He has been investigating the street department since he became commissioner; he finds that Mr. Byars is thoroughly conversant with all the new work on hand and the work that has just been finished, that he has a well organized department and that he keeps busy on the city improvements. He considered all the conditions, and then nominated Mr. Byars, and the nomination was satisfactory to the mayor and was submitted to the commission. Mr. Byars is a Waco boy who is a Texas product in the engineering line. He received his education at the A. & M. college of Texas, being graduated in one of the large classes in civil engineering under the direction of James C. Gable, professor of civil engineering, who is one of the best known authorities in the profession in the country. Mr. Byars has been for more than twenty years at the head of that department, and in addition is author of several works on civil engineering, and especially one text book. The course taught at the college is a thorough one and City Engineer Byars had the benefit of it every day.

The other appointments were recommended by Mr. Littlefield.

Police Appointments Deferred.

Mayor Mackey stated that Chief of Police Barron is ill and the recommendations regarding the police department were not ready, and would be submitted as soon as the police chief could discuss the matter. Sergeant Bob Buchanan and Night Chief Prater are candidates for the night watch position.

Sergeant Buchanan, when asked concerning the appointment, yesterday said: "I have put in my application for the place, but am making no fight on anyone. This is the first statement that I have made to anybody save the authorities and the present incumbent, whom I told that I would apply."

Mr. Buchanan has served many years on the police force of Waco and has many friends on and off the force.

It was stated in police circles Monday night that Sergeant Buchanan would be recommended for the position. Further, it was stated that Chief Prater yesterday stated to the mayor that he left it all up to the mayor to do as he thinks best in the matter.

For City Physician.

There are several names suggested for the position of city physician. Among these is Dr. E. Toomlin, the present incumbent. Others suggested are Dr. Baker, Dr. Minnick, formerly city physician; Dr. Graves and Dr. Witt. Dr. Graves is a brother of Dr. Marvin L. Graves, formerly of Waco, but now in the medical college at Cleveland. While it is not known that any of these physicians have applied for the place, it is known that friends of each have urged the claims of the several doctors for the position. Mayor Mackey had not determined yesterday who would be named for the place.

TO REPAIR HOLE ABOVE PRISON

Commissioner Dollins Says Some of the City Prisoners Got Out Monday.

It developed by a statement made by Commissioner Dollins at the meeting of the city commission yesterday morning that some of the prisoners in the jail got out Monday, but no report of it had reached the public prior to his statement, which was a brief one. He stated that repairs were necessary in the calaboose because of the damaged condition of the floor above the prison, caused by the recent fire in the blue room, and in making the request he disclosed the fact that prisoners had escaped.

The matter of repairs was referred to Commissioner Foster.

POLICE SIGNAL IN BAD ORDER.

Commissioner Dollins Asks That It Be Put in Order.

At the meeting of the city commission yesterday morning Commissioner John Dollins reported that the police signal alarm system was in bad order, and that the police chief, Mr. Barron, is being taken care of by the Independent Telephone company under a contract that there is no pay unless the system is kept in order. Commissioner Dollins was instructed to report the matter to the telephone company.

Personal Mention

F. B. Holland, assistant manager of the southern department of the Queen Insurance company, and H. O. Hill, special agent of the same company, were in Waco yesterday. Mr. Hill was formerly a citizen of Waco, and contemplates relocating here. He said yesterday that Waco is without doubt the fastest growing city in the state and feels that the growth is natural. He is now located in San Antonio.

FIRST INTERURBAN IS TO BE IN JULY

FARMERS AND MERCHANTS JUBILEE IS BEING DISCUSSED BY THE Y. M. B. L.

ELGIN, ILL., IN AN INQUIRY

Report From the Committee on Good Roads—Fifty-four Have Signed for Trade Trip.

The first interurban car will run into Waco from Hillsboro in July, and in combination with the Farmers' and Merchants' jubilee, a celebration of those living along the route of the interurban, and the citizens of Waco will possibly be held. The matter was discussed at a meeting of the Young Men's Business League directory last night. J. F. Strickland, president of the interurban company, is understood as being in sympathy with the movement if the people wish to thus show their appreciation of the road.

The Young Men's Business League is making a systematic effort to secure high class citizens to locate in Waco. At the meeting of the directors of the league last night copies of letters sent people in all parts of the United States who are contemplating a change and who will make good citizens were read by Secretary H. Hagedorn. The league also instructed secretary to secure from United Commercial Travelers and the Travelers' Protective Association a list of traveling men out of Waco, and to address letters to the members individually asking their aid in getting in touch with people who are planning to move. The directors feel that traveling men come in contact with the best class of men.

Communications were read from several commercial organizations asking for information about Waco. One of them was from the Chamber of Commerce at Elgin, Ill. Ed Howell, who is secretary of this organization, is one of the big men of the country in this work. He asked for a detailed statement of Waco's resources, population and other matters. The Elgin Commercial Club is one of the liveliest in the country, and has on its directory some of the strongest men in the middle west. The club is practically composed of the members of the Elgin better market of the United States. The local league sent pamphlets and other information to the secretary of the Elgin club.

J. Walter Coker, of the good roads committee, reported to the directory that his committee has addressed letters to prominent men in the different precincts near Waco asking what they think of starting a definite good roads campaign and asked for suggestions from them. Among those who were written was Senator Terrell. He wrote Mr. Coker that his idea would be to wait until the bill which will come before the special session of the legislature enabling precincts to issue bonds by a majority vote of the tax payers, instead of the usual two-thirds, is acted upon. If this bill is passed, he felt that it would then be the proper time to go into the matter in a comprehensive way and start a definite campaign.

Relative to sending a delegate to the good roads convention in Birmingham, Mr. Coker said his investigation led him to believe that the money could possibly be spent to better advantage by attending other conventions.

Secretary Hagedorn was given a three days' leave to visit San Antonio Thursday.

A letter from the secretary of a commercial organization in Beaumont requesting information about gas rates was read. The information secured by Mr. Hagedorn in order to answer the letter shows that Waco's rate is only half what it is at Beaumont.

Fifty-four men have already signed up for the trade trips. The first trip will be made May 8 to Tyler and intermediate points. The second will be made about May 22, the third June 12 and the fourth June 26. Waxahatchie is planning excursions and requested approximate dates in order not to conflict.

WOMAN'S CLUB DISAPPROVES OF THE CRITICISM OF THE SCHOOL BOARD.

Policies of the Present Administration Are Commended and Recent Comments Deemed Hurtful.

In the moving picture shows of Waco there are now showing slides asking those who read to vote for the Mother's Club ticket in the election for school trustees to be held May 1. This is a reminder to those who patronize the moving picture shows and as these popular amusement places are crowded all during the day, many thousands people see this reminder.

The controversy regarding the public schools and the school board campaign came up for discussion at a meeting of the Woman's Club yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. L. Aubrey on South Third street. This was the regular meeting of the club. It is one of the oldest organizations of the women of the city, and some of the most prominent of the Waco women are in its membership. At the meeting yesterday were Mrs. O. E. Arbuckle, president; Mrs. W. S. McCall, secretary; Mrs. J. R. Ferrell, Mrs. W. O. Wilkes, Mrs. J. W. Hale, Mrs. E. Rotan, Mrs. John G. Kendall, Mrs. Aubrey, Mrs. Hester, Mrs. J. R. Milam, Miss Ada Fisher, Mrs. Charles Bontin, Mrs. H. C. Black, Mrs. John Sleeper and Mrs. H. B. Mistrout.

The result of the discussion of the school board controversy by the ladies of the club was the adoption of the following resolutions of confidence in the present school board:

"Members of the Woman's Club having at all times felt a deep concern in the welfare and conduct of the public schools of Waco, and on many occasions and in divers ways having endeavored to assist in the improvement of the schools, view with disapproval the criticisms made of the present administration of the school board in articles that have recently appeared in the public press. Therefore, be it resolved, that these criticisms are unwarranted and unjust in every particular."

Resolved, that we endorse the policies of the present school board and consider such articles injurious to the future welfare and progress of our city schools."

PLEA FOR FIREMEN

CHIEF PRESCOTT WANTS A $5 A MONTH ADVANCE ALL AROUND.

Men Work All Night at the Rate of $15 Per Month—Get No Vacation—Danger Always.

A petition from the paid fire department of Waco asking for an increase in pay of 10 per cent all round was read and referred to Commissioners Dollins and Caulfield at the commission meeting yesterday.

Chief Prescott appeared before the board and said: "I think my boys ought to be raised the same as other departments. They have not had a raise now in four or five years."

Mayor Mackey—I think the commission raised them once. I know Mr. Wright recommended a raise of $5 per month all round.

Chief Prescott—They are now asking for 10 per cent increase. The engineer who now gets $90, would under that raise get $99 and the man who now gets $15 per month would get $15.50 increase. I think the equitable way would be to give them $5 per month all round. My men get no lay-off. They are on duty all the time. The police work only twelve hours and when the police get a raise the firemen ought to get it. If one of my men lays off to go fishing for ten days it costs him $10 out of this pay to pay for a substitute, and then we are training a substitute. In Dallas the poorest men in the department get $30. Here our engineers get $90 and the drivers $70. If you give them the 10 per cent advance the men who do the most work will get the least money advanced. While we are only a half pay department, I have a full department of paid men after 9 o'clock at night. These men get 50 cents a night to stay at the stations away from their families. After 6 o'clock in the morning they are turned loose to do their other work, but if they happen to be out all night at a fire, they are not fit to work next day and earn a living. It is hard to get men at $15 a month to do this work. The chief also spoke of the danger of the work.
